LEE'S SUMMIT SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Lee's Summit, Missouri

Volume XXVII

1962 reflector

Foreword

Perhaps the best way to record a school's activities is to present them in chronological order. In this book the students, faculty, and administration of Lee's Summit Senior High School are followed through the seasons of the year.

During the three months of summer vacation, LSHS'ers enjoy the green of the meadows and the delicate blue of cloudless skies with picnics, swimming parties, and lonesome walks through quiet woods.

As the breezy breath of autumn gently showers the paling earth with multi-colored leaves, LSHS'ers pack away swimming suits and don slacks and dresses suitable for attending classes. The trees are left naked of their foliage while the bare halls of LSHS are filled with bustling masses.

Then when white diamonds of ice and snow begin to adorn the branches and rooftops and the crisp air of winter makes toes and noses numb, emphasis is placed on indoor sports and holiday celebrations.

With spring comes the sweet fragrances of lilac blossoms and that irrepressible urge to be out of doors. Gentle rains shower the new blooms as chronic cases of spring fever are cured only by long-awaited shouts of "School's out!"

Reflecting upon such experiences of the past with pride, and looking forward to even happier times in the future the REFLECTOR staff presents the Lee's Summit Senior High School 1962 yearbook.

DR. BERNARD C. CAMPBELL, Superintendent of Schools

DR. WILLIAM J. UNDERWOOD, Assistant Superintendent

MR. JAMES T. BROCKMAN, Principal

Through the years our school district has maintained its high standing by the combined efforts of Dr. B. C. Campbell, Dr. William Underwood, and Mr. James T. Brockman. These men are responsible for the improvements and progress being made in our school system.

Their Guidance Is Appreciated

MR. TOM GARRETT

"I don't believe there is a single person alive who could not be helped by a psychiatrist."

Mr. Garrett, in charge of guidance counseling at LSHS, helps students with scheduling and other general problems. His job also includes aiding college-bound students to their goals. By administering numerous aptitude tests and keeping students informed of available scholarships, Mr. Garrett helps countless LSHS'ers bring a college education within their grasp.

Mr. Garrett has a B.S. in Education and an M.S. in Education from University of Missouri. He sponsors National Honor Society and the Sophomore class.

MR. LYLE JONES

"Well, hello, and what seems to be your worst problem today?"

Mr. Jones, like Mr. Garrett, is largely concerned with problems, whether in scheduling or in regular classwork. Problems Mr. Jones has helped solve, and the college information made available by him may well affect the future lives of many LSHS'ers.

Mr. Jones has an M.A. in Guidance Counseling, B.S. in Business Administration. He attended Missouri University and Drury College. He is a sponsor of the Junior class and the National Honor Society.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

SEATED: Mrs. Helen Shidell, Mr. Herbert Whiting, Mr. E. M. Copeland, Mr. Owen Covington. STANDING: Dr. Clint, L. Miller, Dr. Bernard C. Campbell, Mr. Lloyd Boten, Mr. Robert Schwindler.

Their Work Is Hard

MRS. BETTY DAVIS

MRS. MARSHA MILLER

MRS. MARY GIBSON

No one contributes more to easing the burdens of our school administrators than do the office secretaries. Correspondence, duplication, bookkeeping and their many other varied duties add to the efficiency with which our school is run.

Their Duties Are Many

MRS. HELEN SHIDDELL

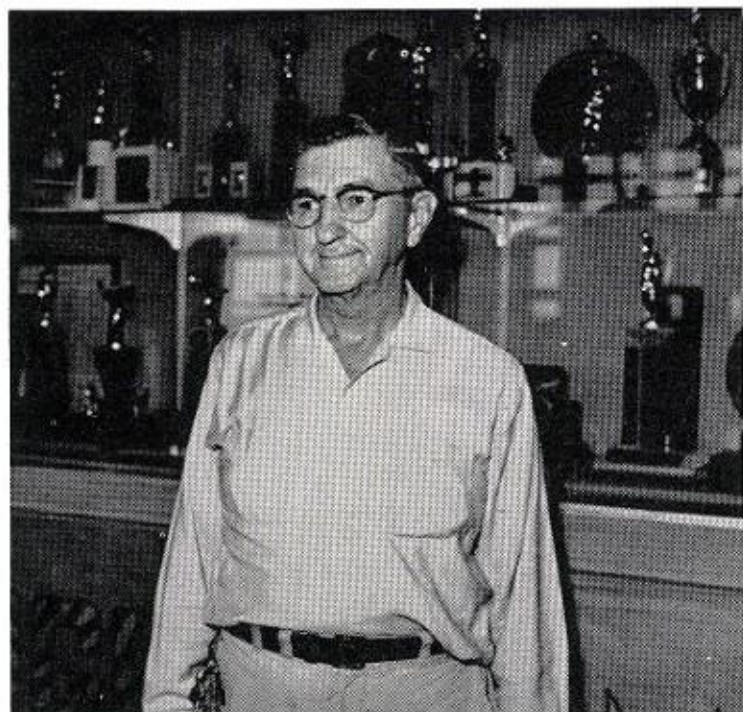

MRS. VIRGINIA PATTON

Similar tasks are performed by the secretarial staff in the superintendent's office. Just keeping track of our busy administrators is a job in itself. Mrs. Winburn's regular duties are supplemented by her partial responsibility for the resource library, Dr. Underwood's collection of instructional aid devices used by every teacher in the district.

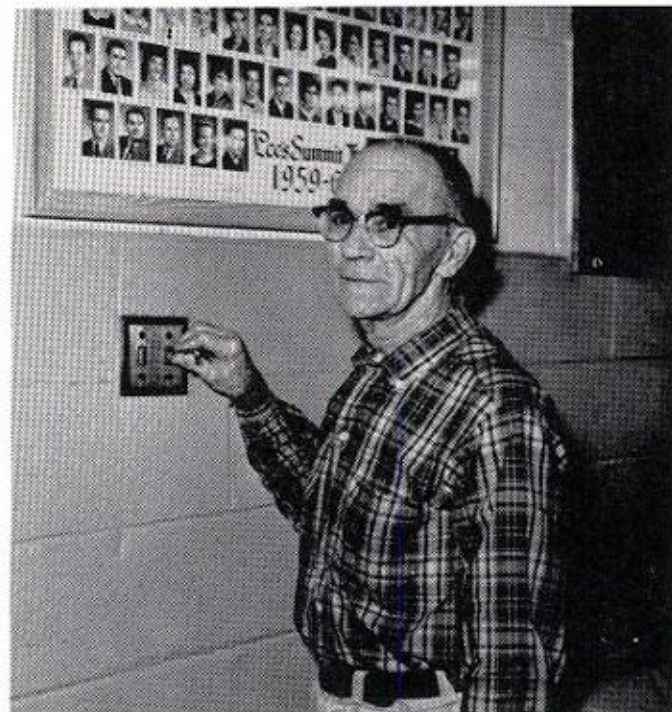

MRS. MARY WINBURN

They Undertake The Housekeeping Duties

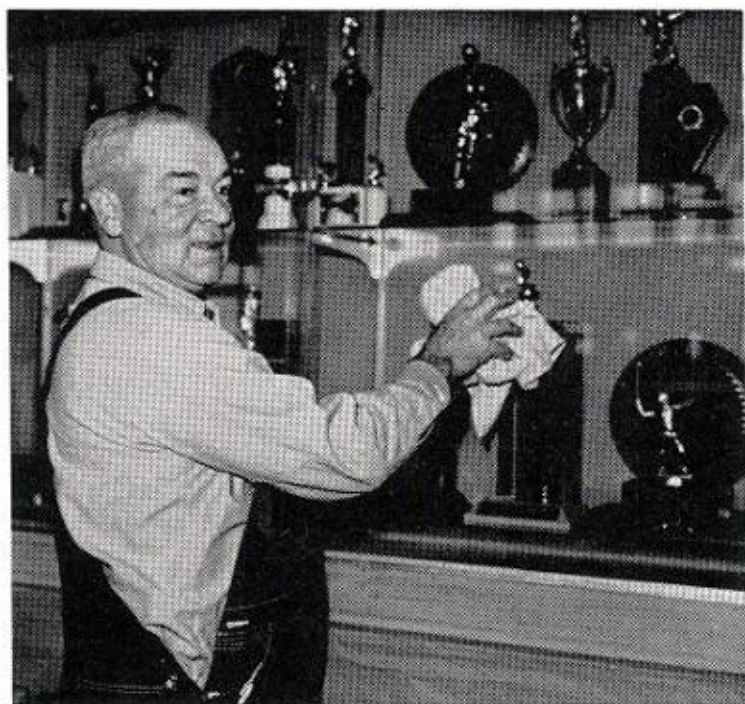

MR. LAWREN HAVENS

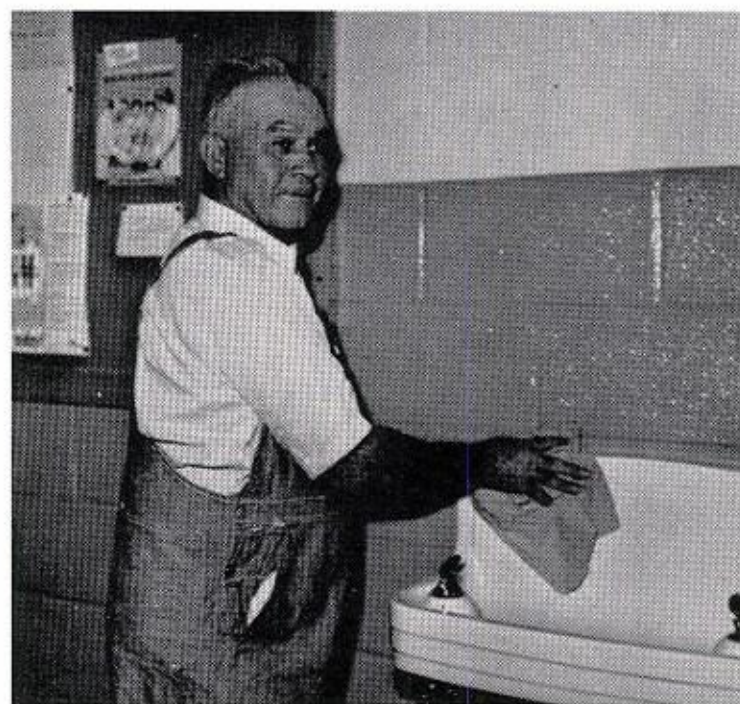

MR. RALPH INMAN

Our custodians' work is never done. They must work constantly to keep the classrooms and halls clean and neat. Their responsibilities include keeping the heating system in order and keeping the building locked against night prowlers. Of course, the students depend on them, too, for their skill in opening jammed lockers.

MR. RAYMOND SMITH

MR. DEWEY CUNNINGHAM

They Prepare Our Lunches

MRS. LILLIAN EWING, Cafeteria Manager

MRS. DONNA STONE, Cashier

Each day Mrs. Ewing and her cafeteria staff must prepare over 300 nourishing meals for hungry LSHS'ers. This is no simple task, and requires weeks of planning and hours of cooking. It also requires constant research for more efficient and economical techniques in food preparation.

Mrs. Cecil Alexander, Mrs. Mary Cravens, Mrs. Roy Martin, Mrs. Owen Cusick.

MISS DIANE BLACK

"O.K., girls, everybody run in your places now. Faster, faster, FASTER!"

Many a tired girl has come out of Miss Black's gym classes. Miss Black's biggest job is keeping the girls healthy and active, and Lee's Summit's co-eds can be found in top physical condition. Of course, those exercises keep many girls from getting "fat", too. Thank you, Miss Black.

Miss Black received a B.S. in physical education and health from Missouri University. She helps sponsor the senior class, the Pep Club, G.A.A., and the tumbling team.

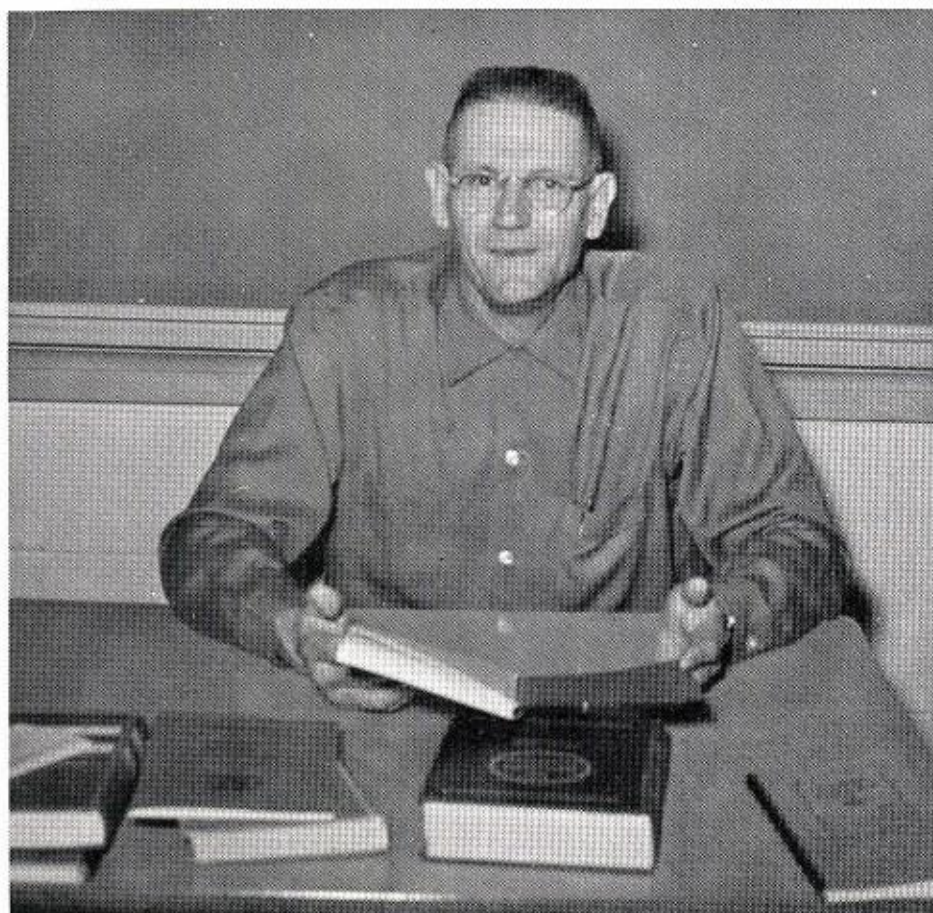

MR. BOB BOBBITT

"Just come to Old Dub; he'll fix you up."

Mr. Bobbitt, alias "Old Dub," has brought several new theories into the chemistry department at LSHS. By operating his classes on a casual, uninhibited basis, he has actually fostered a pleasant outlook on this once-dreaded subject.

Mr. Bobbitt holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Missouri, and is a sponsor of the freshman class.

Our Education

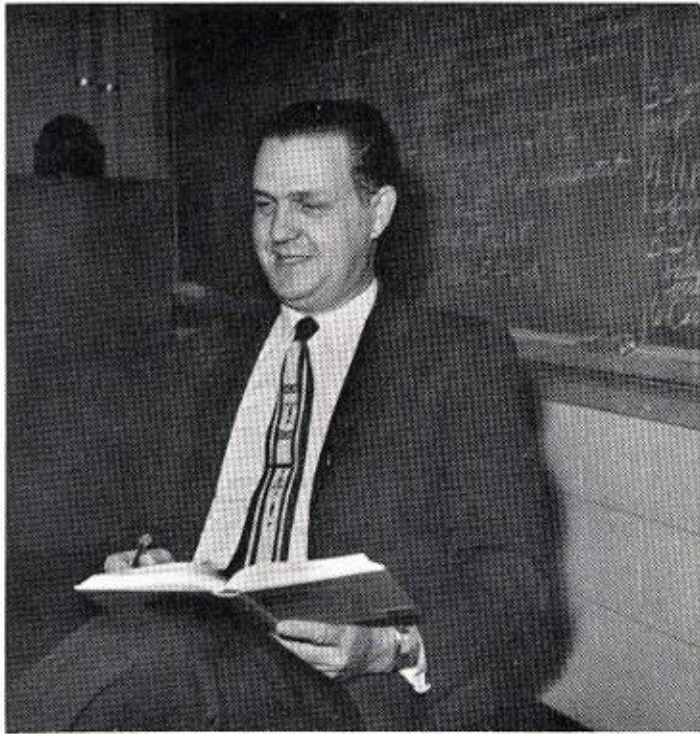

MR. CHARLES CHILDRESS

"I'm sorry, Bob, but the Drivers-Ed car has an automatic transmission and I don't know how fast it will go in second-gear."

Mr. Childress, known to everyone as Coach Childress, is not only an excellent driver's training instructor, history teacher and former L.S. athletic coach, but is regarded as one of Warrensburg's finest athletes.

Mr. Childress has a B.S. in Education and a M.S. in Education from C.M.S.C. He is a sponsor of the senior class.

MR. WILLIAM CLARK

"Now, students, in trigonometry we have a few formulas to memorize; a little over a hundred to be exact."

Mr. Clark, who teaches Lee's Summit's higher math courses, demonstrates and explains how math is a necessary ingredient for a successful future.

Mr. Clark has a B.S. in Education from C.M.S.C., and graduate work from University of Colorado and Missouri State. He is a freshman sponsor.

MR. WINSTON CONKLING

"I think some of you must be depending on the Great Pumpkin to get your homework for you."

Mr. Conkling is the short little man one seldom sees in the downstairs halls. He evidently stays near his own classroom on the second floor, where he teaches freshman civics classes and a sophomore world history class.

Mr. Conkling earned both his B.S. and his M.S. in Education from Kansas State College. He helps sponsor the sophomore class at LSHS.

s Their Goal

MR. J. C. DAVIS

"It would be a good idea, class, to read the chapter before we discuss it."

Mr. Davis is in LSHS for his first year this year. He not only serves as head coach for the freshman football team, but also teaches sophomore classes in world history.

He has an Associate degree in Arts from Southwest Mississippi Junior College and a B.S. and M.S. in Education from Kansas State College. He is a sponsor of the senior class.

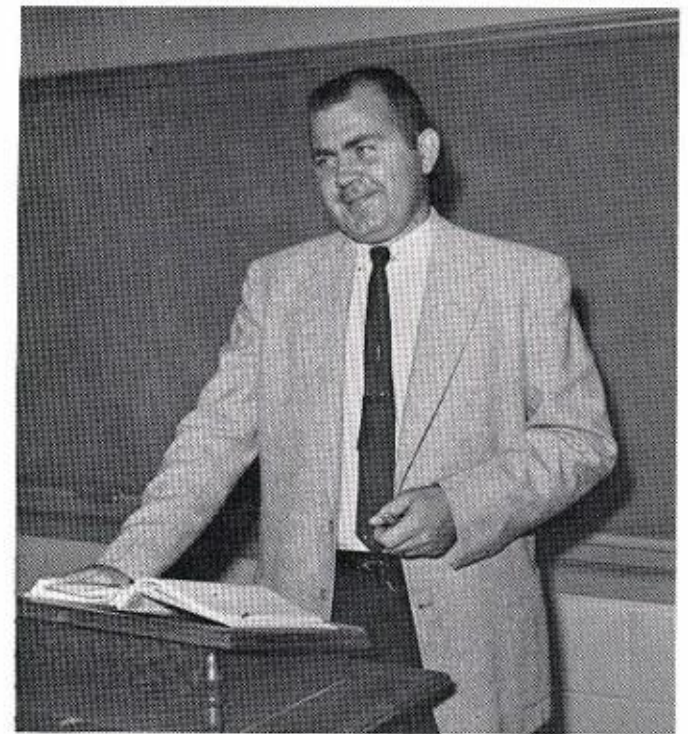

MRS. LECTA DENNY

"We don't come to the library to talk and visit."

Mrs. Denny is responsible for keeping the thousands of books in our library in order and accounted for. Another of her tasks is to insure a quiet atmosphere for those students who need to study in the library.

Mrs. Denny has a B.S. in Education from C.M.S.C., a degree in library science from the University of Colorado, and graduate work from the University of Kansas City and S.M.S. She helps sponsor the sophomore class and the Library Club.

MR. ROBERT DIEKMAN

"I don't want you boys talking to girls after school; I want you down in that dressing room."

Brains and brawn are combined in one of Lee's Summit's finest coaches. Being a math teacher, too, coach Diekman expects his sons to be scholars as well as athletes.

Mr. Diekman received his B.S. from Missouri Valley College, and graduate work credit from St. Louis University. He is a sponsor of the senior class.

Their Knowledge

MR. RICHARD DRAHEIM

"All right, you guys, go to work!"

Mr. Draheim's students receive vocational training in wood-working, metal-working, and leather tooling. Through individual projects, they make personal achievements in the fields of mechanics and carpentry.

Mr. Draheim has a B.S. in Education from C.M.S.C. and graduate work from M.U. He is a sponsor of the junior class.

MR. JAMES ESKEW

"Oh, you like this tie? It was left in the locker room by one of the boys."

Besides doing a little flirting with the girls in his study halls, Mr. Eskew teaches history and is a member of our excellent coaching staff.

He received his B.S. from Warrensburg Jr. College and Rockhurst. He is a sponsor of the senior class.

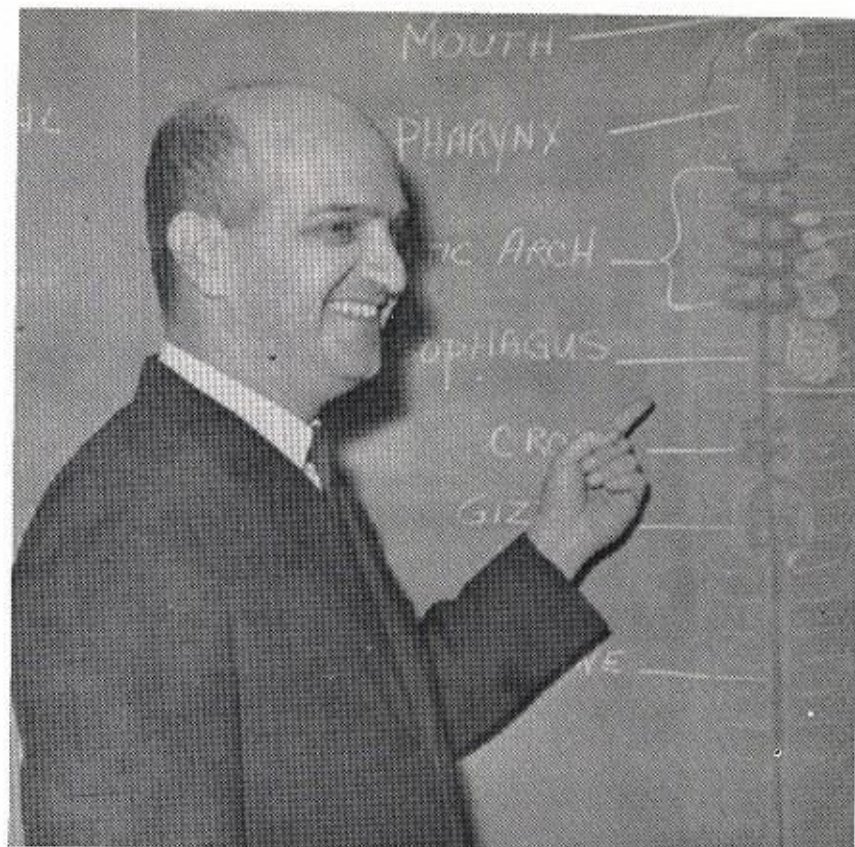

MRS. ITRICE EUBANKS

"I don't particularly like hot rods, but it is nice to know that the extra power is there when you want it."

Mrs. Eubanks is the quiet refined woman who teaches English II and III at LSHS; she also owns the hottest and fastest ford in Lee's Summit.

Mrs. Eubanks has a B.S. in Music and English from M.S.C., and an A.B. in Music and English from L.S.U. She has a M.A. in Education from K.C.U. and a S.M.S. from Washington University. She is a sponsor of the Freshman class.

MR. ARTHUR HEFFELFINGER

"My students use more greentape on St. Patrick's Day than I use during the whole year."

Mr. Heffelfinger's scientific knowledge is put to use in the biology department. A strong stomach and a probing curiosity are key requirements of both students and teacher in this class.

Mr. Heffelfinger has a B.S. from C.M.S.C. and graduate work from there also. He also attended Stephen F. Austin State College, and is a sponsor of the Sophomore Class.

hey Share With Us

MRS. VIVIENNE HOPKINS

"By the way, class, the second bell has rung."

Even before Mrs. Hopkins became a regular English and general business teacher at Lee's Summit three years ago, many students had already met her as a substitute. She is enjoying a room of her own this year, after transferring between each class period last year.

Mrs. Hopkins received a B.A. in Education from Washburn University, and is now a sponsor of the senior class.

MR. KEITH HOUSE

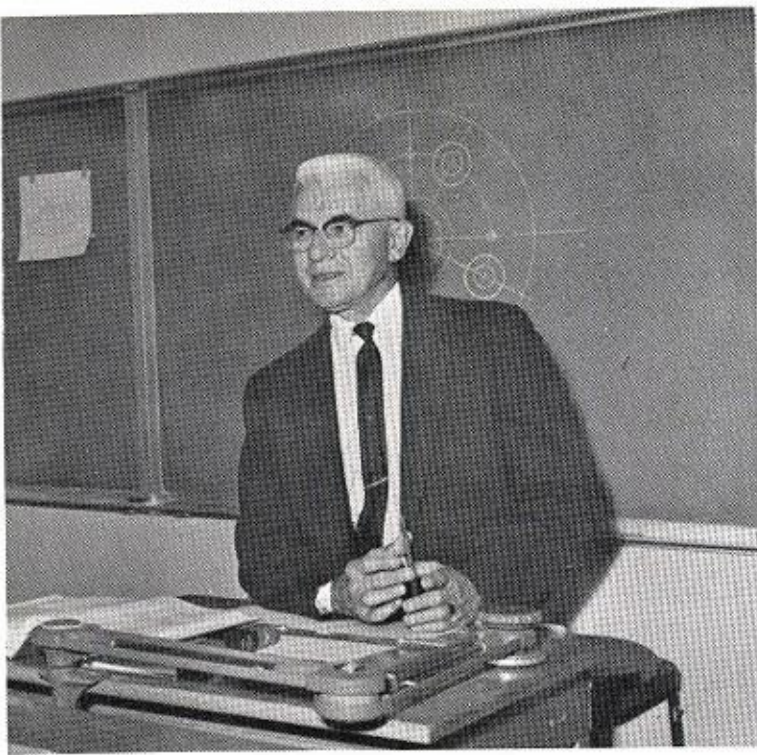

"It doesn't matter if Ruskin did beat us. We know who has the best band."

Mr. House likes his music well enough to put up with all the noise of the band room all day, and still enjoys explaining chords and intervals to the Mixed Chorus and glee clubs. Under the direction of Mr. House, LSHS has one of the finest marching and concert bands in the state.

Mr. House has a B.A. from Central College and a M.A. in Education from Kansas University. He also is accredited with graduate work from Michigan University. He helps to sponsor the Junior class.

They Learn

Mr. Long, who teaches drafting and mechanical drawing, is also in charge of C.O.E. He has a B.S. in Education from C.M.S.C., and graduate work from Colorado A. & M. He attended Missouri University and Fort Collins. He is a sponsor of the Freshman class.

MISS CAROLYN MILLS

"Today, class, we'll check our OWN papers."

Mrs. Mills strives to keep the English language alive-- in the freshman class, at least. Now in her second year here, she helps give LSHS'ers the necessary groundwork in grammar and literature for a successful future in college or on the job.

She has a B.A. and S.C. from Durant, Oklahoma and attended Poteau Junior College. She helps sponsor the freshman class.

MRS. MILDRED MITCHELL

"I believe you are the noisiest class I have."

Mrs. Mitchell, besides teaching English I and II, always finds time to help students with extracurricular activities. Being a good worker and always fun to work with, she is often called upon to help decorate the gym for dances and build the parade floats.

Mrs. Mitchell has a B.A. from Olivet College and graduate work from University of Illinois. She attended the University of Indiana; and she helps to sponsor the Senior class.

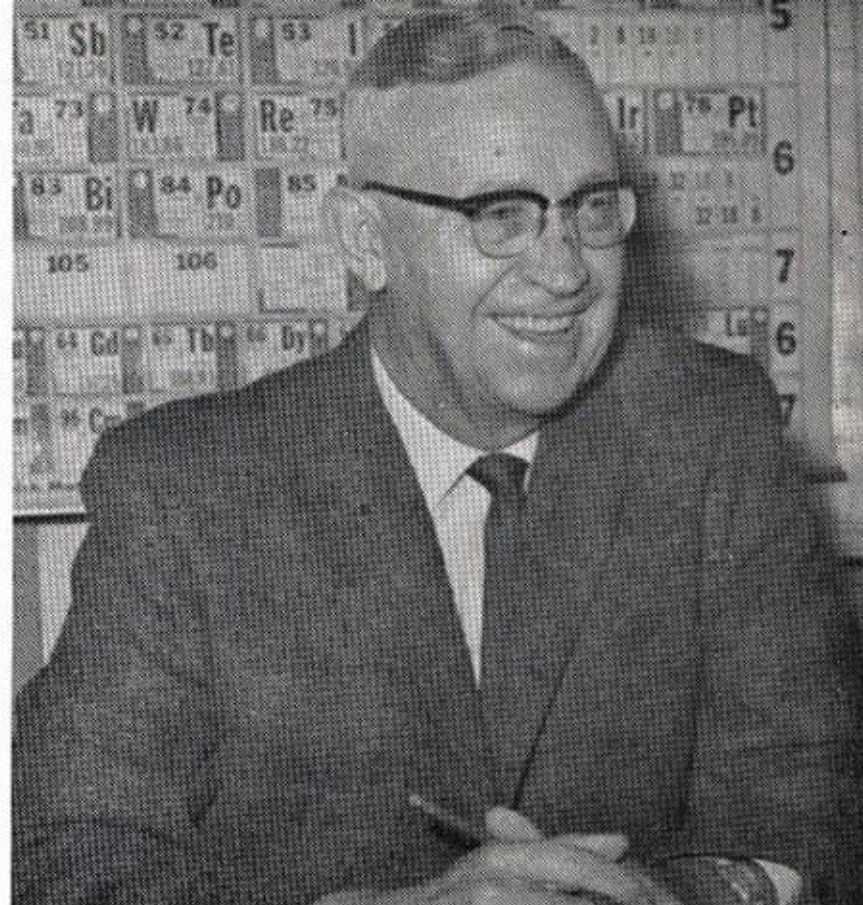

As We Learn

MR. FRANK ORTHEL

"If everything else fails, refer to your textbook."
Mr. Orthel, a man well educated in Latin, is the philosopher of the LSHS science department. His pleasing and comfortable manner of teaching makes general science almost fun.

Mr. Orthel's B.A. degree was obtained from William Jewell College, and he helps to sponsor the sophomore class.

MR. ROBERT PALMER

"If you boys have anything to discuss you may use my room instead of the halls."

Mr. Palmer, who does an outstanding job of keeping local congestion in the halls to a minimum, is one of our competent math teachers. His blackboards are almost always filled with plane geometry problems and theorems.

Mr. Palmer earned his B.S. in math at C.M.S.C. He helps sponsor the senior class.

MR. WAYNE PARKER

"Which one of you wants to run some extra laps?"
"That'll be fifty deep knee bends after school."

Coach Parker is responsible for the weird, but invigorating, games played in the boys' gym classes. Mr. Parker is known for his firm friendliness. He oversees his classes like a lion-tamer, but always wears a big smile on his face.

Mr. Parker has a B.S. in education from Maryville State Teachers College and a M.A. in Health and Physical Education from Colorado State College. He is a sponsor of the sophomore class and the tumbling team.

They Prepare U

MRS. VIVIAN PHARR

"I think it would be wise if you students would outline your chapters before our discussion."

Mrs. Pharr, who now has a son attending her old alma mater in Warrensburg, teaches history, government and economics at LSHS. By means of discussion and daily observation her classes are kept aware of the current world situation.

Mrs. Pharr has a B.S. in Education from C.M.S.C. and a M.A. from Colorado State. She participated at a workshop course at K.C.U. last summer, and is a sponsor of the Junior class this year.

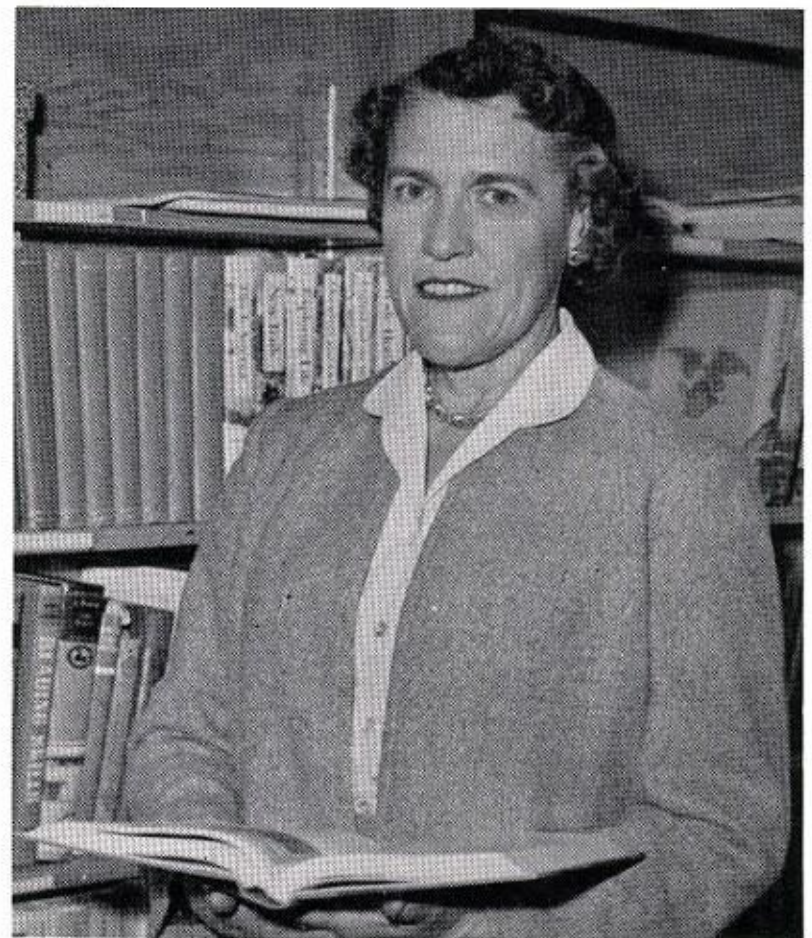

MRS. JULIA REESE

"Raise your little patties. You musn't talk without permission."

Mrs. Reese doesn't always treat her English III students as if they were first graders, but she does find it effective at times. She seems to enjoy teaching English, and gives her students a good background for their theme-writing days in English IV.

Mrs. Reese holds a B.A. in English from Wesleyan College and a Masters degree from K.C.U. She is a faculty sponsor of the Senior class.

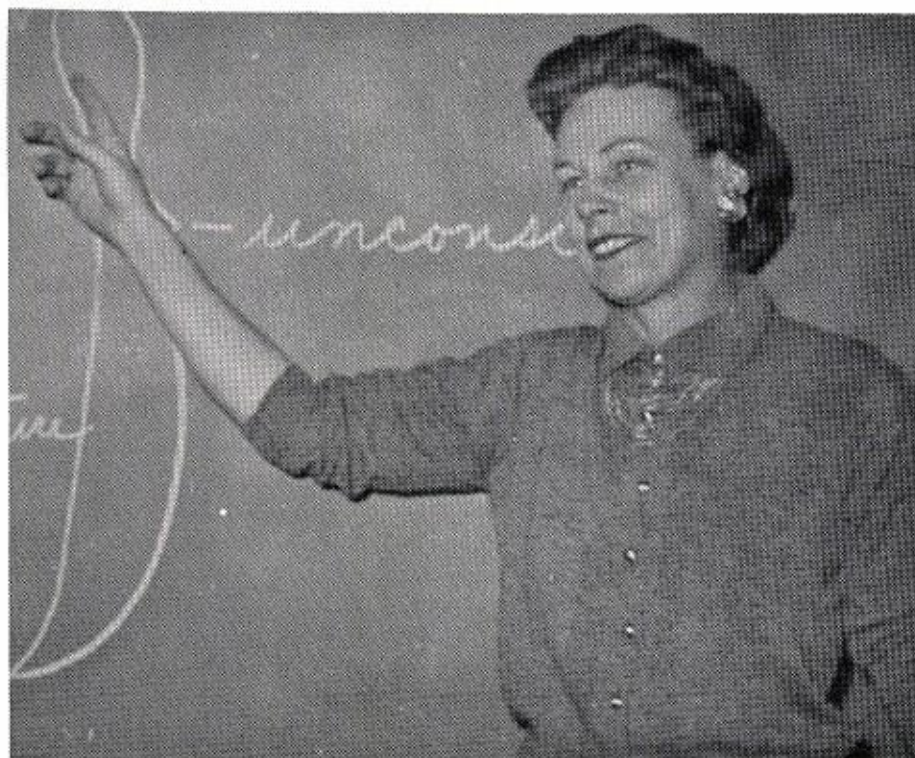

MRS. KAY PLACE

"You can't get anywhere in psychology until you accept the theory that all behavior is caused."

In Mrs. Place's American Problems and psychology classes, senior students are introduced to a mature outlook on life's problems. Using an effective mixture of humor and firmness she produces one of the key courses for college bound students.

She has a B.A. from Missouri Valley and graduate work from Kansas City U. She is a sponsor of the freshman class, the National Honor Society, and the REFLECTOR.

For The Future

MR. MARVIN REID

"O.K, fellas, somebody's loafing."

Mr. Reid, who was in LSHS last year as a practice teacher from C.M.S.C., is now a member of our vocational shop department faculty. He emphasizes the importance of safety measures in the use of shop machinery.

Mr. Reid has a B.S. in Education and graduate work from C.M.S.C. He is a sponsor of the sophomore class.

MISS PEGGY SIMMERMAN

"Don't take my word for it; look in your textbooks."

Miss Simmerman, who was a student practice teacher from Warrensburg last year, is now in full charge of her own freshman English classes. She may be new at this undertaking, but her students do a good job of learning the fundamentals of English grammar.

Miss Simmerman has a B.S. in Education from C.M.S.C. at Warrensburg and is a sponsor of the junior class and the Future Teachers of America.

MRS. FRANCES SHIRCK

"I'll say each word once, then you repeat it three times."

Mrs. Shirck teaches Spanish I and II. She makes frequent use of Spanish recordings and group singing. Her method of perfecting pronunciation by having the class repeat each word three times is very effective.

Mrs. Shirck has a B.S. in Clinical Psychology from the University of Omaha, Nebraska. She is sponsor of the Spanish Club and the sophomore class.

Patience And Firmness

MR. IVAN SLAUGHTER

"I've got an idea! Let's stop horsing around and get on with our projects!"

Mr. Slaughter's vocational agriculture classes do everything from picking corn in a field knee-deep with mud, to throwing the annual Barnwarming Dance. Thus Mr. Slaughter's talents must be varied and flexible. His good sense of humor often comes in handy, too.

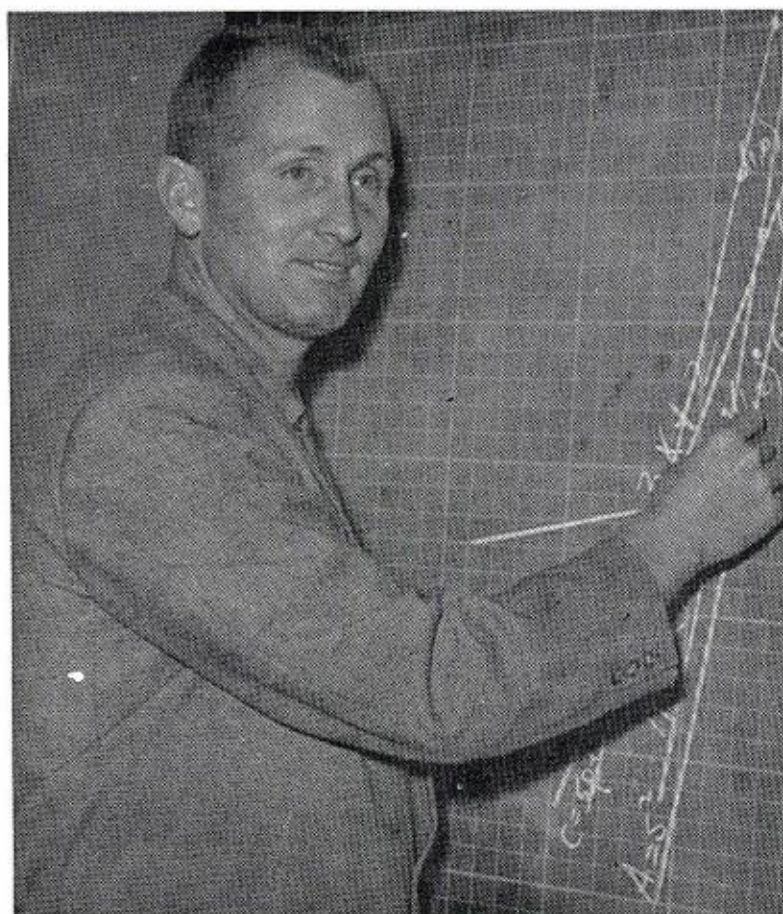

Mr. Slaughter has a B.S. from M.U., and Graduate Work from C.M.S.C. He also helps to sponsor the Freshman Class.

MISS SARAH THOMAS

"You girls will be out on the job one of these days, see? So we have to cut down those errors, see?"

Miss Thomas is Lee's Summit's senior commercial teacher. She has shorthand and bookkeeping classes, besides the office-machine practice class which she herself introduced in LSHS.

Miss Thomas has a B.S. in education and graduate work from C.M.S.C. in Warrensburg, Missouri. She is a sponsor of the junior class.

MR. FRANCIS TITUS

"The boys on my basketball team don't drink, they're good athletes."

Mr. Titus lays down the line on training rules, and hard practices have produced the hard fighting Lee's Summit basketball squad. By teaching physiology and algebra between games, Mr. Titus produces students mentally and physically strong and powerful.

Coach Titus has a B.S. in Education from Missouri Valley and graduate degrees from C.M.S.C. He is a sponsor of the senior class.

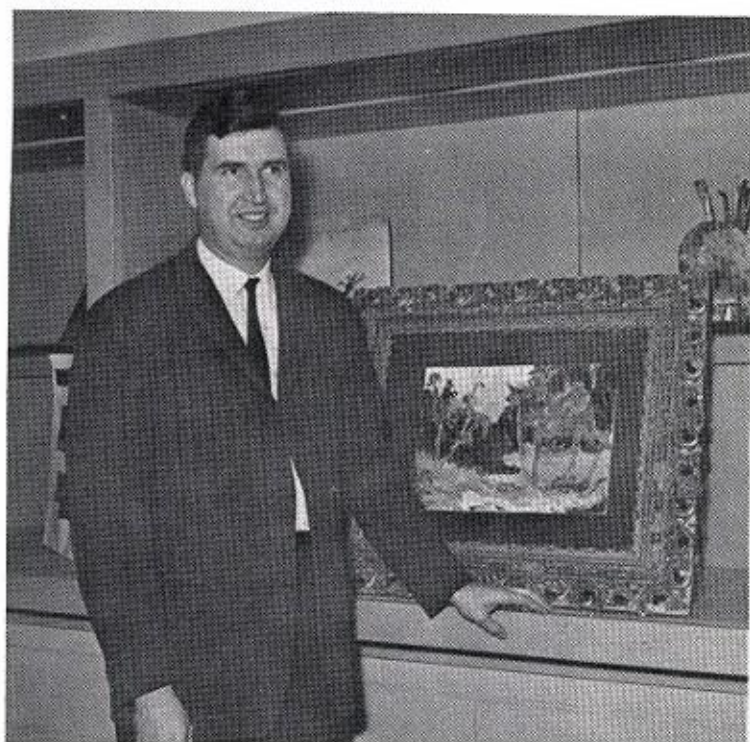

Are Their Assets

MRS. BARBARA VAN HOOK

"The chapter test is tomorrow. It isn't hard and only counts about half of your grade."

Teaching chemistry and physics keeps Mrs. Van Hook busy preventing students from blowing up the building.

Mrs. Van Hook has a B.A., from Kansas University and has participated in graduate work at the University of Kansas City, and from N.M.S.C. This summer she went to Southern Oregon College sponsored by the National Science Foundation. Mrs. Van Hook helps to sponsor the Sophomore Class, F.T.A., and Future Scientists Club.

MR. OLLI VALANNE

"I don't care if it is music day. We don't listen to 'Bo Diddley'."

Mr. Valanne, a polished Ivy-Leaguer from Cornell University, Helsinki University, and the University of Kansas City, is head of the creative art department. He has worked as a ship's steward, and even as a prison guard. Even so, he is one of the best progressive art instructors Lee's Summit has ever had.

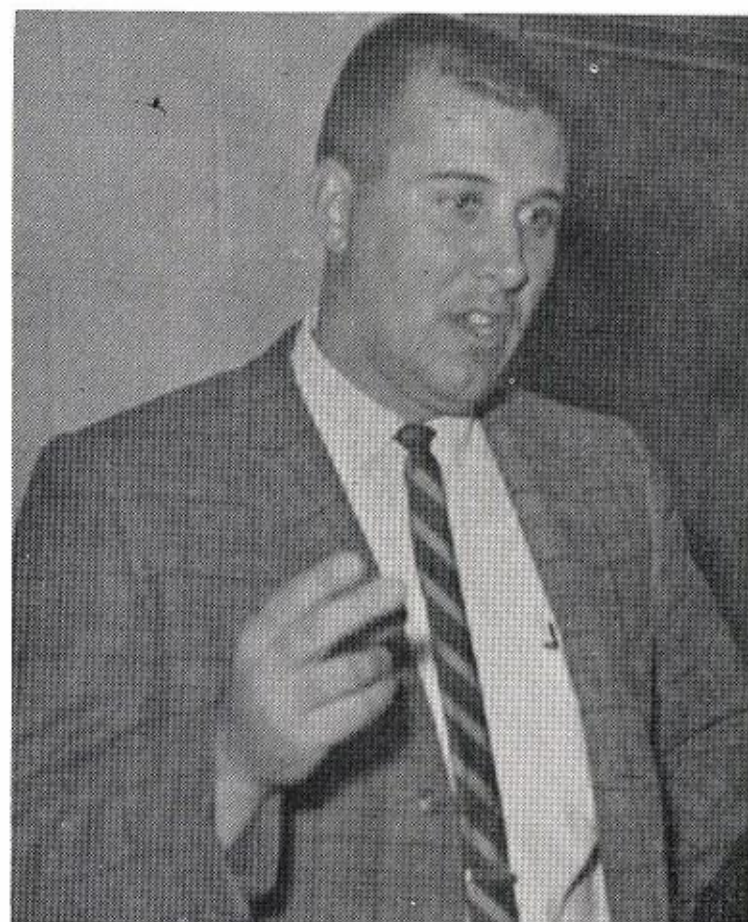

Mr. Valanne received his B.A. degree from Cornell University. He is a junior class sponsor.

MR. BILL VAN PELT

"Dad-gum-it, you cats, let's keep it quiet in here!"

Mr. Van Pelt's main objective (after securing silence) is to prepare the members of the "B" band for positions in the "A" band. He works closely with Mr. House to produce the fine music department in our school.

He obtained his B.S. degree from C.M.S.C. This year he is a sponsor of the senior class.

Ignorance And Apathy

MRS. SUE WILLIAMS

"English literature is not boring, class; really it isn't."

The enjoyment which replaces boredom in Mrs. Williams' English classes testifies to the effectiveness of the interest in our language she develops in her students. With her help and understanding, Lee's Summit students enter college with a well-prepared background in English.

Mrs. Williams has a B.S. in Education from C.M.S.C., and graduate work at K.C.U. She helps to sponsor the junior class.

MISS MARY FAYE WILSON

"We'll just 'scrounge' up a little pie here."

Miss Wilson looks "just like one of the girls" when she walks through the halls, but actually she is head of the home economics department at LSHS. Through projects and demonstrations, her students are sure to become better homemakers.

Miss Wilson earned her B.S. in Education from C.M.S.C. and graduate work from M.U. and Colorado State. She sponsors the Future Homemakers of America and the freshman class.

MISS ELAINE WILTSEE

"Now I don't mean to be cross, but . . ."

Miss Wiltsee is the sweet little lady who teaches five units of Latin at LSHS. She is known for her friendly, helpful attitude toward all her students. She is also notorious for her lengthy research make-up assignments.

Miss Wiltsee has a B.S. in Education from Drury College, and work from S.M.S., M.U., and the University of Minnesota. She is a sponsor of the Latin Club and the freshman class.

Are Their Foes

MR. PAUL WINANS

"Don't strain yourself to read your neighbor's answers; he is taking a different test."

Mr. Winans has such an extensive knowledge of world history, some of it is bound to rub off on his sophomore and junior students. He increases these chances by the efficient, yet easy-going, manner in which he conducts his classes.

Mr. Winans has an B.A. from Graceland College, plus a B.S. and a M.S. in Education from C.M.S.C. His graduate work is from the University of Colorado. He helps sponsor the junior class.

MRS. BETTY WITTER

"Now class, tomorrow we are going to get down to business."

Mrs. Witter keeps more than busy by coaching the debate team and accompanying its members to state-wide tournaments, teaching four speech classes, and being producer-director of the all-school play production.

She has a B.S. in speech from Northwestern University and work from the University of Missouri. She is a senior class sponsor.

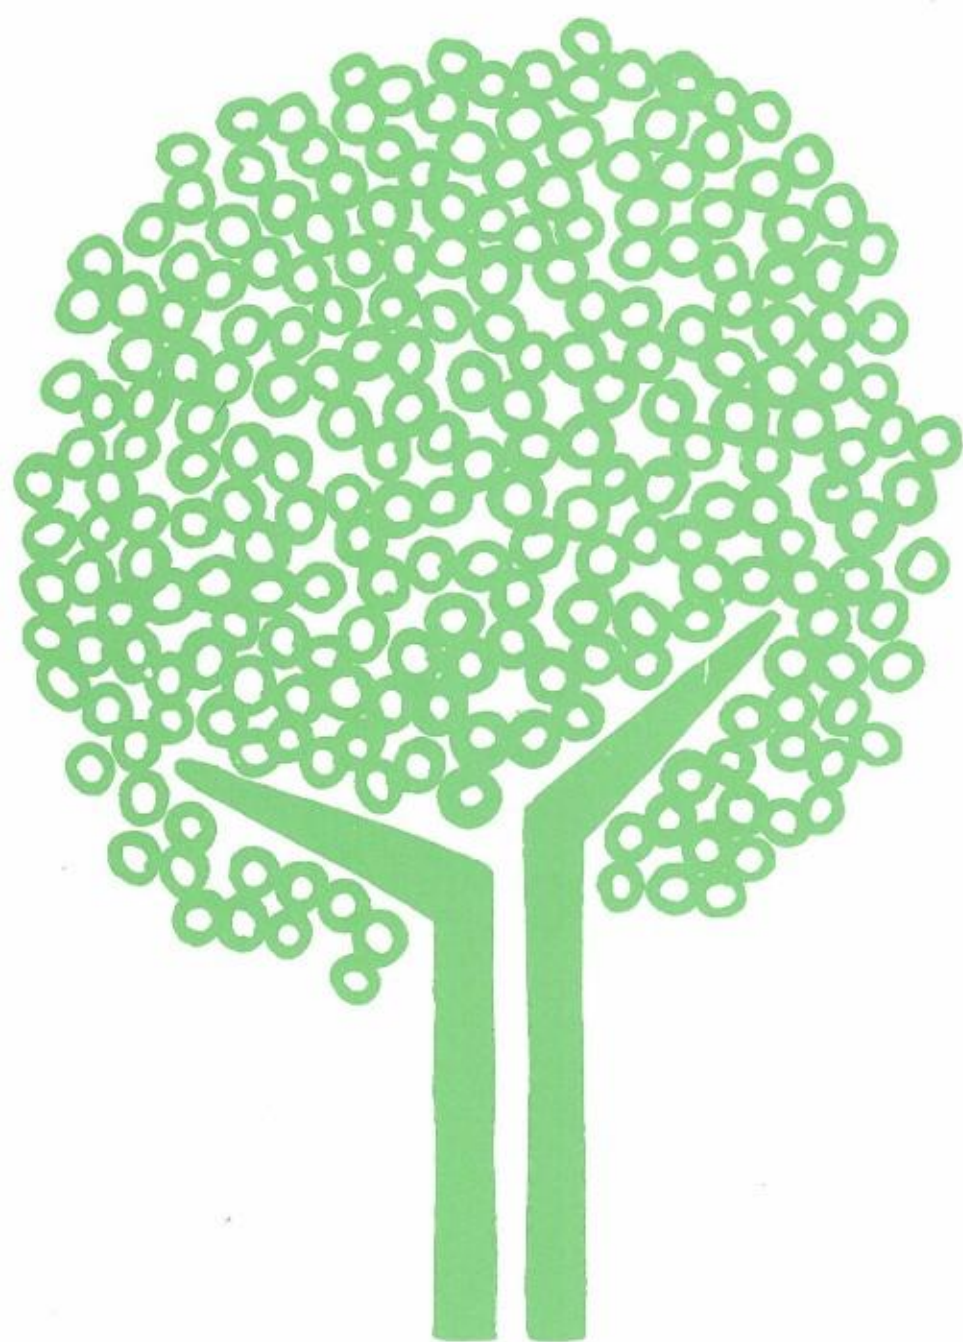

MRS. THELMA YOUNG

"That was fine, John, Now you may write a five-hundred word theme on chewing gum during class."

Although Mrs. Young has a B.S. in education from E.C.S.C. in Ada, Oklahoma, it is still a mystery how easily she turns a classroom of uncoordinated individuals into a group of polished typists. It is beyond the realm of our understanding. We just observe, marvel, and accept it.

Mrs. Young helps sponsor the Junior class, the Pep Club, and the Future Teachers of America.

Summer

Summertime, when school is out and the weather encourages outdoor activity, is a time of fun for all LSHS'ers. Whether one works at a part-time job or travels to new places on vacations with family and friends, the respite from homework and studying is enjoyed by all.

Of course there are some conscientious LSHS'ers who enroll in the summer courses in typing, driver education, psychology, and other interesting subjects offered by Lee's Summit High and surrounding school districts. A great majority of the vacationing students, however, prefer to take advantage of the excellent opportunities for swimming, hiking, picnicking, and lounging in the warm summer sun.

One of the high points of every summer season is the week-end when Lee's Summit is host to several bus loads of American Field Service exchange students from countries all over the world who enjoy a tour of the United States before returning to their homes. The arrival of our own exchange student, this year Gabriella Bruschi from Rome, Italy, is awaited and planned for by the entire community. The return of our American student abroad is also anticipated. Last summer Harriet Fillmore spent two months in Greece.

For many girls summertime means having fun in the high school softball league and attending modeling and charm courses. They also look forward to the competition for Queen of the Jackson County Fair held in the Lee's Summit City Park. For the boys summertime means plenty of spare time to rejuvenate and customize old "jalopies" and learn to do the "twist."

For still others there are the Student Council convention in Columbia and the Publications Workshop at the University of Missouri. LSHS students attend 4-H tours and conventions, and are honored with the privilege of participating in the American Legion's Missouri Boys' State and Girls' State. Musically talented students find positions in the Unity Concert Band and attend instructional clinics throughout Missouri.

Thus summer for LSHS'ers is both full and varied and is sure to go quickly no matter how passed.

Long-Awaited Summer Activities

Gabriella Bruschi, foreign exchange student from Italy, is welcomed with a reception at the home of Mrs. Robert Place.

Our marching band led the Jackson County Fair parade in August.

Are Likewise Long Remembered

The halls of L.S.H.S. never look so bare as during the summer months.

Lee's Summit was host to over seventy-five foreign students as they toured the Midwest before returning to their home countries in July.

LSHS Became A Meeting Place Fo

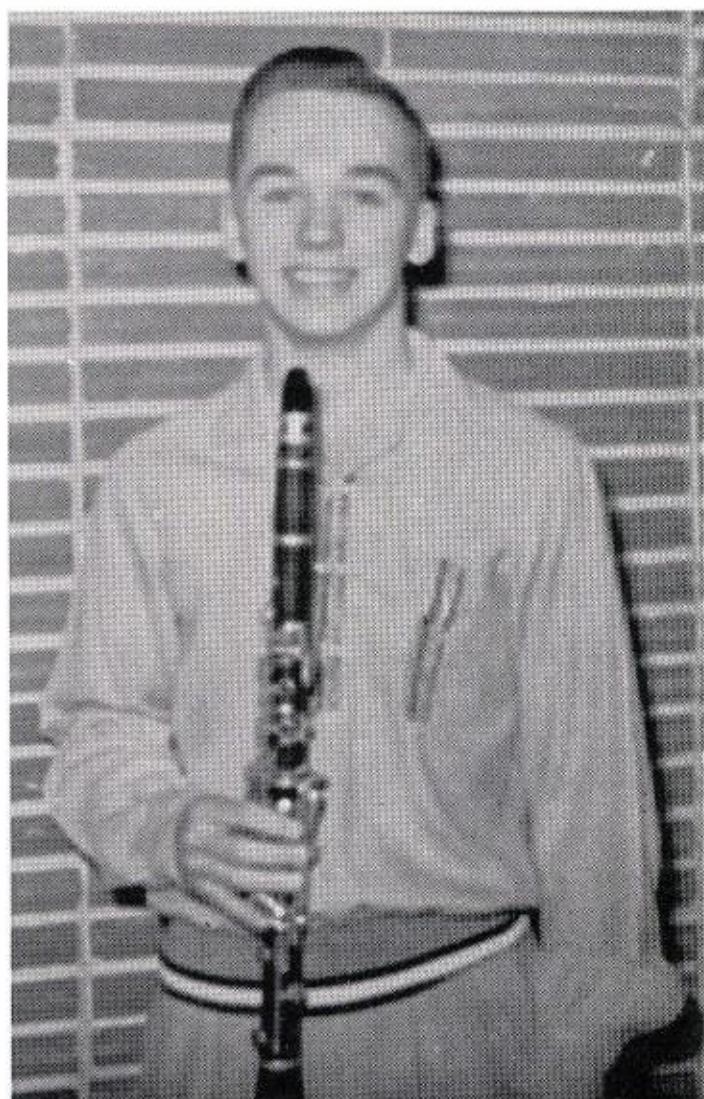

Last summer Harriet Fillmore participated in the American Field Service Americans Abroad Summer Program. For two months she lived in the country of Greece--one month with a family in Patras, the second month on the island of Rhodes. This year Harriet was asked to speak before many local civic groups, telling of her experiences in her Greek environment and comparing life in Greece with life in the United States. In an all-school assembly early this year, she showed films of her trip and presented to the student body this flag of Greece as a reminder of Lee's Summit's first exchange student abroad.

Visiting our school district for two weeks as she toured the United States this year was Miss Viravong,, exchange teacher from Laos. Although in her own country she is a sixth grade teacher, Miss Viravong enjoyed attending classes with Carol Ann Browning for one day, and satisfied her curiosity concerning the American high school system.

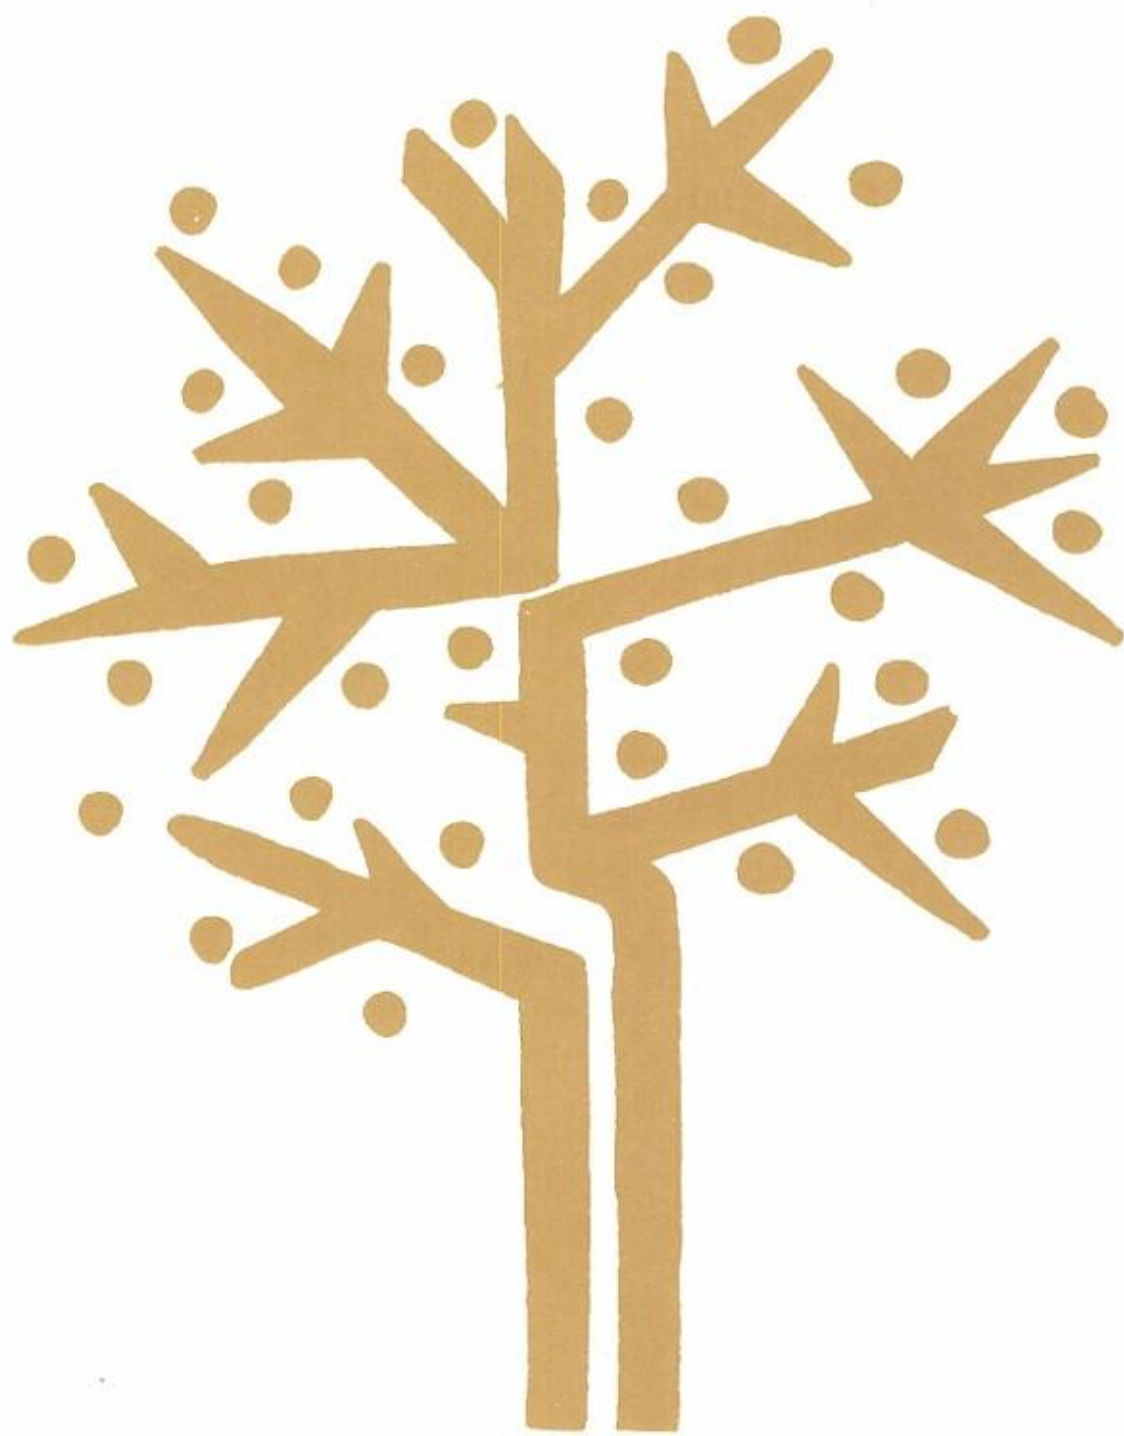

World Travelers and Foreign Students

This year, for the third consecutive school year, Lee's Summit was host school to a foreign exchange student through the American Field Service program. Gabriella Bruschi, better known to LSHS'ers as "Lella," came to us from Rome, Italy, where she had already completed her high school education. Throughout the year, Gabriella lived in the home of Joyce and Sharon McDonald, and attended LSHS as a regular member of the senior class. She became an honorary member of both the Latin Club and the National Honor Society. Here Joyce, Gabriella, and Sharon pose for the Reflector photographer.

Richard Jorgensen saw his many hours of clarinet practice pay off this year as he read his letter of acceptance to the summer division of the School Band of America. With seventy-six other high school musicians from all over the United States, Richard will tour eight European countries for one month this summer, giving concerts and learning the European cultures.

Fall at LSHS begins with the annual Freshman Orientation program. This program gives the freshmen their first taste of high school routine and gives the rest of the student body one more day of vacation.

During the last two weeks of September the routine becomes a little hectic as the Guidance Office begins the year's testing program. Class work is interrupted and lunch hours are lengthened as D.A.T. tests are given to freshmen and juniors, Iowa tests to sophomores, and the Ohio Psychological test to members of the senior class.

After intensive practice in August and September, the LSHS football team is ready to meet opposition on the high school gridirons of the Kansas City Suburban Conference. Football season began this year with the Lee's Summit-Clinton ball game, in which the Lee's Summit Tigers rose victorious over the Clinton Cardinals. Bringing the season to a close was the Homecoming game against Smith-Cotton which ended in a tie.

Homecoming activities get off to a rousing start with the traditional Pep Club initiation. Senior initiators dress their sophomore initiates in costumes resembling anything from clocks to packages of Lifesavers. Following the initiation assembly is the annual Homecoming Parade, for which the band provides the music, the four classes and all school organizations provide beautiful floats, and the costumed Pep Club initiates are always good for a laugh or two. Homecoming Queen, this year Mary Kate Childers, and her attendants, this year Bonnie Padgett and Fran Anderson, reign over the parade, the game, and the dance in the gym which closes the evening.

Fall seems to be a favorite season for school dances. Sophomores are in charge of the annual Harvest Dance. Original decorations and good music are expected and appreciated.

Members of the Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America sponsor the Barnwarming Dance. Cider, doughnuts, and square dancing are usually the order of the day. This year Glynda Day was crowned Queen of the Barnwarming Dance and Jackie DeWitt and Dixie Dunham served as her attendants.

Fall is brought to a close at LSHS with the dismissal of school for Thanksgiving vacation.

The Future Homemakers' float won second place in the Homecoming Parade.

Who was more embarrassed at Pep Club initiation, Jolly Spurck or Mr. Eskew?

A Fall Favorite --

Confusion reigned as initiates took their places for the Pep Club assembly.

One of the fall activities looked forward to by all LSHS'ers is football Homecoming. For one whole week sophomore members of the Pep Club go through the traditional, unusual necessities of initiation. Initiation week is brought to a climax with an all-school assembly in which each senior initiator tries her hardest to thoroughly embarrass her sophomore initiate. Following the assembly, the final blow comes when the sophomores must march through town in their initiation costumes in the Homecoming parade.

Of course, it is worth all the struggle. At the coke party after the parade, each initiate receives her gold Pep Club emblem and the right to wear it proudly on her Pep Club sweater. She is now officially a member of the Lee's Summit Pep Club.

Freshman Class

Largest in the History of LSHS.

FRESHMAN OFFICERS--Carol Hale, treasurer; Terry Tucker, vice-president; Jane Dunning, secretary; and Rick Fette, president--meet in the library to make plans for the year.

On September 6, 1961, the freshman class, consisting of 262 members, entered Lee's Summit High School. They faced many new situations in starting their high school career. In their class election Rick Fette was elected president; Terry Tucker, vice-president; Jane Dunning, secretary; and Carol Hale, treasurer. Their formerly elected student council members were Mary Dale Honey, Judy Wiggins, Jim Donnelly, and John Miller.

In the Homecoming Parade, honorable mention was awarded the freshmen for their beautiful float "Sail to Victory."

In February the student body was entertained by the annual Valentine's Dance sponsored by the freshmen.

Through their many activities, the freshmen were aided by their sponsors who were Miss Wilson, Chairman; Mrs. Place, Mr. Titus, Mrs. Eubanks, Mr. Bobbit, Miss Wiltsee, Mr. Long, Mr. Slaughter, Mr. Clark, and Mrs. Mills.

Presenting Our Football Heroes,

The Tigers of LSHS, under the leadership of Coach Bob Diekmann, made great strides this year in bringing a winning football team back to Lee's Summit. Although the tigers won only three games, while losing five and tying one, it is the best record they have accomplished in the past three years. This year's squad of 34 boys had 13 lettermen.

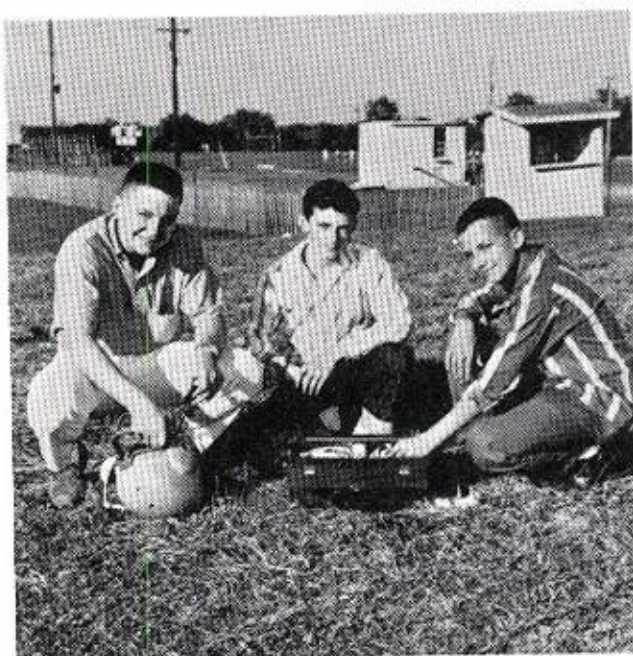

The Tigers got off to a good start with victories over Clinton and Park Hill. The Tigers were surprised by a fired-up Ruskin team in their first home game and were defeated by the Eagles. Although the rest of the season brought many thrilling, well-played games, the Tigers were able to salvage only one more victory and a tie with Sedalia at Homecoming.

Individually, the Tigers were led by Ted Whiting, end. He was rewarded for his efforts by being named to the Kansas City Suburban Conference All-Star team. Larry Lang, Tiger quarterback, was named to the second team. Three other starters, Terry Sappenfield, Dale Montgomery, and Charles White, received honorable mention All-Conference.

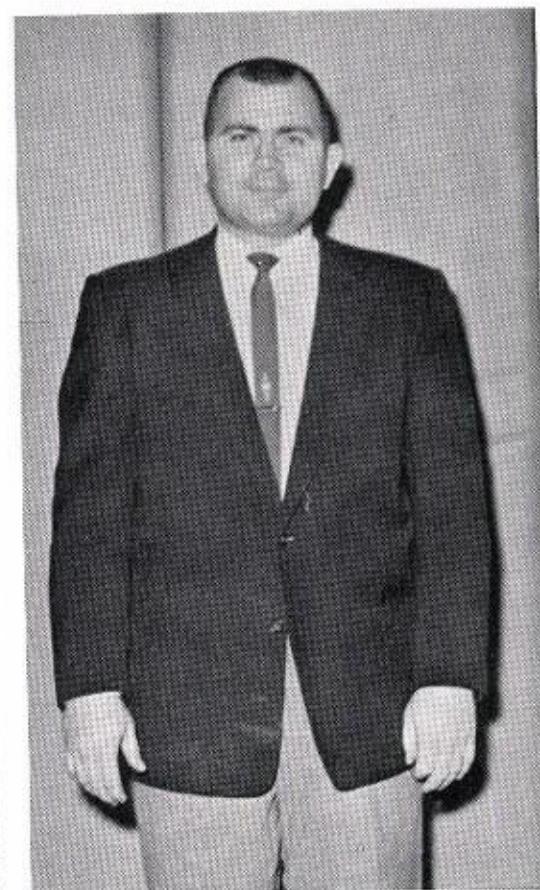

The Tigers did not have a winning season this year, but the future looks bright for LSHS. With seven of the starting eleven returning next year, it looks like a championship is in store for Lee's Summit.

Coronation was chilly, but suspense-filled and exciting.

Charles White and Otis Dyke burst through the hoop of victory as they run onto the field for the Homecoming game.

Homecoming Week is one of the most exciting of the school year. Every class and organization works hard to build a winning parade float, everyone awaits anxiously the announcement of the Queen and her attendants, and graduates return from all parts of the country to see the tension-filled football game.

This year Mary Kate Childers was crowned Queen at half time by Randy Woods; Fran Anderson and Bonnie Padgett were her attendants. The Royalty watched the remainder of the game from the float built especially for them by members of the senior class.

Smith-Cotton proved to be a real challenge for the football team, but the Tigers held their own and ended the game in an 18-18 tie. Following the game, everyone enjoyed the Homecoming Dance sponsored by junior members of the Pep Club.

When the north wind begins to whistle through trees which have long since lost their leaves of red and gold, and the entire countryside seems to rest under a soft blanket of snow, activities at LSHS refuse to be diminished. Ice skating parties at Lake Lotawana grow more and more popular as the weather turns increasingly colder. Indoor sports such as basketball, volleyball, and acrobatic tumbling are favorite spectator sports. Gymnasiums of high schools throughout the Kansas City Suburban Conference are packed to capacity on Tuesday and Friday nights as the Tigers and other teams fight for the Conference championship and tournament trophies. At home games LSHS juniors sell popcorn, candy, and cokes to the fans to insure the financing of the Junior-Senior Prom later in the year. During half-time at these home games, the LSHS tumbling team entertains the crowd with feats of skill and co-ordination.

Extracurricular activities, as important as they may be, are not allowed to interfere with the school's primary function--education. With wintertime comes the end of semester and, of course, semester examinations. Two days are set aside for these tests, which are administered in every subject and taken by every student wishing to receive credit for his courses.

Members of the faculty and administration at LSHS believe that active membership in school clubs and organizations is an essential factor in the education of any student. During the winter months the school organizations are especially active. Members of the Future Teachers of America attend conventions and visit school and universities in the area to gain a knowledge of America's educational system. LSHS's debate team participates in speech and forensic tournaments all over the state. Each year the annual Latin Club Christmas banquet and traditional National Honor Society Candlelighting Services are looked forward to with pleasant memories of years past. This is also the attitude toward the Christmas Concert, in which the band, the mixed choir, and the glee clubs present their musical achievements for enjoyment by the community. At the Christmas dance, sponsored by the Senior class, LSHS'ers dress in semi-formal attire and enjoy the good music and refreshments.

Even though it is sometimes inconvenient to trudge through knee-deep snowdrifts in order to catch the bus, many students consider winter their favorite season at LSHS.

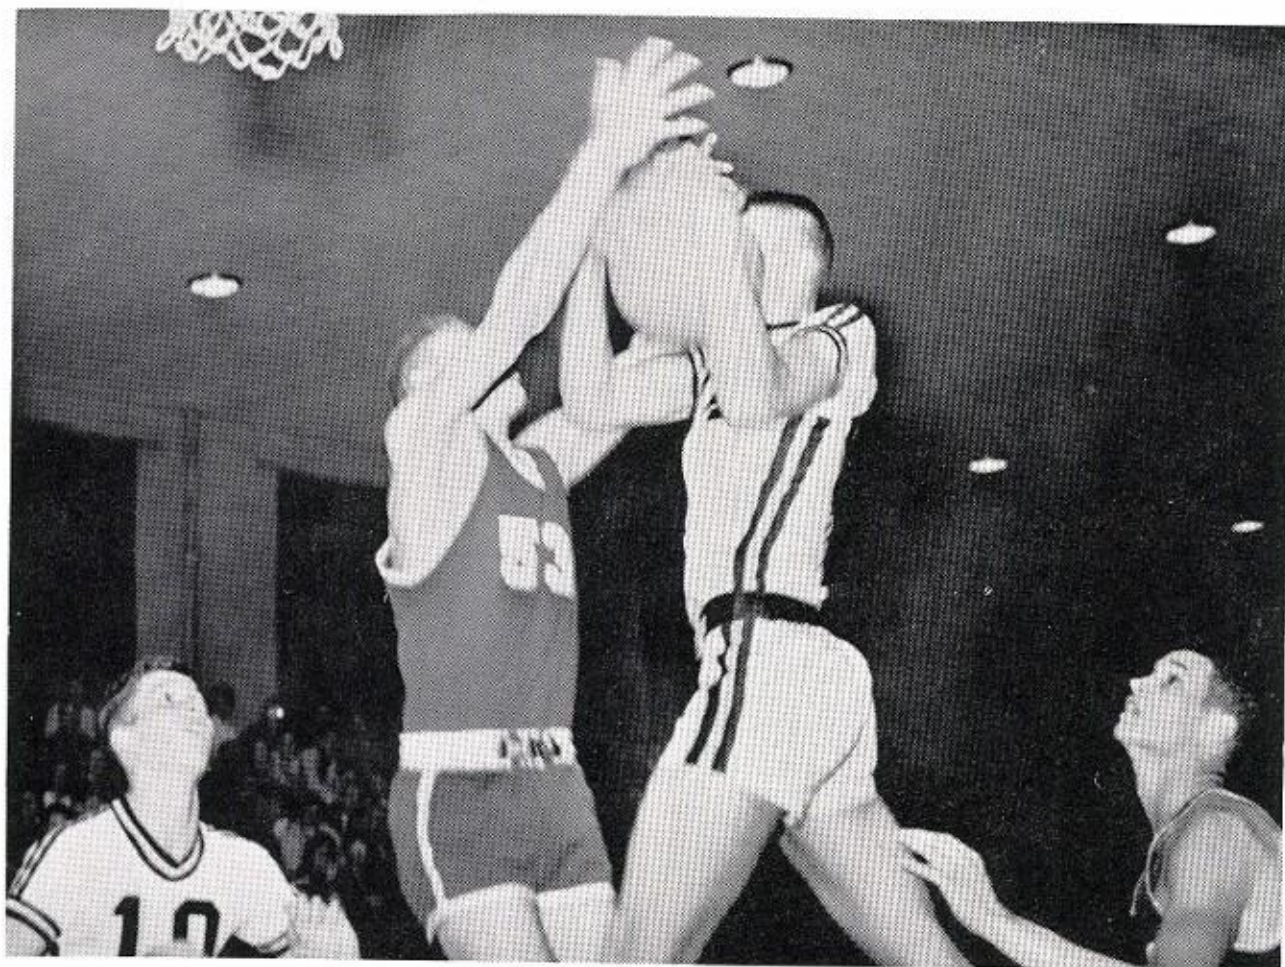

Winter Activities

Winter lends itself to snow-ball battles.

School busses may not ride like Cadillacs, but they beat walking in sub-zero weather.

Fill Spare Time

Basketball is a favorite winter sport.

Members of the tumbling team entertain at basketball half time.

Sophomores Find It Is a Responsibility

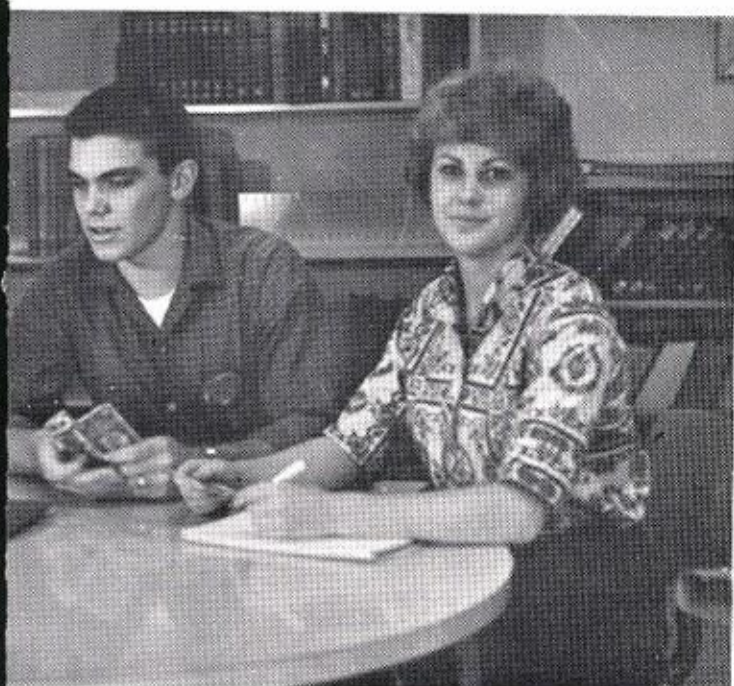

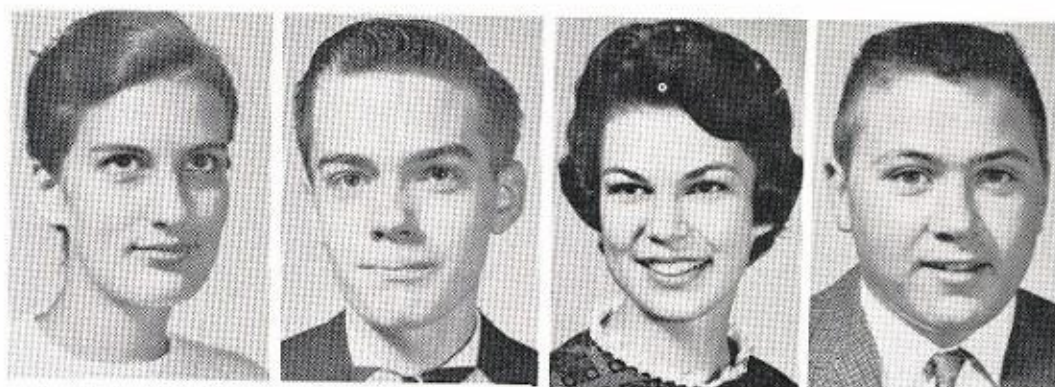

Representing the sophomore class on the Student Council for the 1961-'62 school year were Susy Wilson, Tanya Yeldell, Stan Slaughter, and Tracy Clagett. Class officers elected at the first class meeting were Mike Gibson, president; Stan Slaughter, vice-president; Tanya Yeldell, secretary; and Joyce Cleveland, treasurer.

Sophomores ushered the autumn season in by sponsoring the Harvest Dance, "Harvest Moon." While the band played gaily, a glittering moon shone down on the happy couples dancing. Standing proudly in the center of the dance floor was the proverbial harbinger of autumn--the scarecrow.

Homecoming day brought with it the annual Pep Club initiation. During afternoon assembly and parade the initiates provided entertainment for all, as they performed in their hilarious masquerade style costumes.

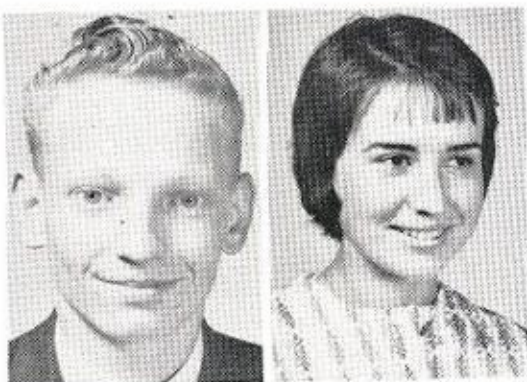

Sophomores found that the year had ended all too soon, but the ability of this class should make a real impact upon the school in the next two years.

"We're upperclassmen now!" This triumphant cry could be heard frequently from the Juniors during the first few weeks of school. Well deserved is this title of "upperclassmen," for the Juniors have proved themselves worthy of it, and have been tremendously successful in all their endeavors.

At the first class meeting class officers were elected. They were Lynn Rice, president; Judy Barnes, vice-president; Verna Brummett, secretary; and Jack Campbell, treasurer.

Taking charge of the Homecoming activities, the Junior class turned the entire affair into a tremendous success, and for the second straight year they captured first place in the Homecoming parade.

After much impatient waiting, the day finally came when the class rings arrived. This was truly one of the most exciting events of the year, and many juniors had sore arms from holding their hands high for everyone to see their precious jewelry.

Highlighting the year was the Junior-Senior Prom. The imagination of the Junior class was stirred to new heights as they planned the decorations. The entire Prom was beautiful, and much appreciated by the Senior class.

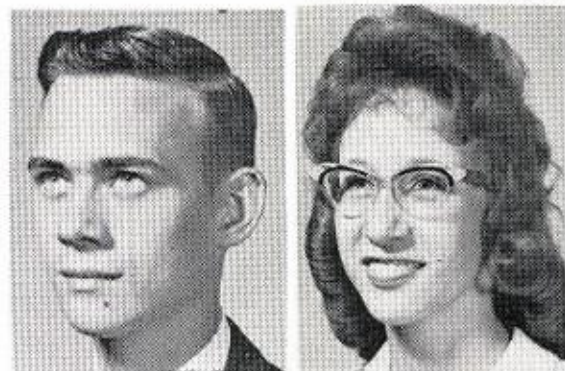

Juniors faced and met their responsibilities and are now eagerly looking forward to their last year as seniors of LSHS.

Juniors are deeply indebted to their sponsors who are: Mr. House, Mr. Jones, Mrs. Pharr, Mrs. Williams, Mr. Palmer, Miss Simmerman, and Mr. Vallane.

A Winning Season In Basketball

Getting off to a rough start, the Lee's Summit basketball team lost their first game in the William Jewell tournament at Liberty, but managed to bring home the consolation trophy. At the Christian Brothers' Invitational in St. Joseph, Missouri, however, the Tigers had perfected their teamwork and took the first place trophy with three decisive victories.

They gave a repeat performance at Clinton, Missouri, where still another first place trophy was earned and carried home by the Lee's Summit five.

Coach Francis Titus accounts for these continued victories by pointing out the almost perfect timing and teamwork the Tigers have developed. Although there is no one outstanding player on the team of sophomores and juniors, the boys work together to make themselves a difficult target for their opponents.

Being the first team in the state of Missouri to win twenty games in the 1962 season, the Tigers' winning streak went unchallenged until the tension-filled game against Grandview for the Suburban Conference title. There, in an ill-fated overtime period, the Tigers were forced to take second place. Lee's Summit made a good showing in the Regional tournament, however, placing second only to Southeast.

Generally speaking, then, Lee's Summit had a winning team in the field of basketball this year. With the same team returning next year as juniors and seniors, LSHS can look forward to another victorious season.

Pep Club, largest organization in the school, has 250 members. The aims of the Pep Club are to promote interest in spectator sports, encourage good sportsmanship, and boost school spirit. These aims are achieved by cheering at the games, and presenting pep assemblies and drills.

Pep Club members, in their black and gold uniforms, attend all football games, cheering the Tigers to victory. With its large membership, the club makes a strong cheering section.

During Homecoming week, the Sophomores and other new members are initiated by the Seniors in an all-school assembly. Junior members are responsible for the dance after the game.

Many other activities are sponsored by the Pep Club. The annual chili supper with Ruskin was held here this year. At Christmas time money was donated by the members to purchase a record player for a girls' home.

Pep Club officers for the new year are elected in May. Planning a picnic for the entire club in the spring is the new officers' first job.

Pep Club girls are bound by strong ties of fellowship. Their co-operation has led to the successful promotion of numerous activities. Pep Club is a vital organization in our school and has brought much fine recognition to Lee's Summit High School.

G.A.A. was formed for those girls interested in sports. It is for fun as well as development. By participating in the sports program, girls develop not only skills, but also poise, good posture habits, co-operation, teamwork, responsibility, leadership characteristics, and they become better acquainted with their classmates. There is a place in G.A.A. for any girl who is interested.

Miss Black is the sponsor of the 36 members of G.A.A.

They have gone to Sport's Days at Central Missouri State College, Shawnee Mission East, Blue Springs, and William Chrisman. For the first time they had their own Sport's Day. The theme for the Sport's Day was TIGERLAND. G.A.A. also has an intramural program, with games on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Feats of skill and daring are accomplished by members of the Tumbling Club for our entertainment. Hard work and vigorous exercise are the components of a day's work-out. Tumbling club members are put through their paces by Coach Wayne Parker.

Performances were given at half-time shows at many of the home basketball games. During these performances, a variety of team skills were demonstrated, ranging from 35-member pyramids to 2-member chest flips.

Plans were discussed for an exchange tumbling program with other schools in the area for next year. Members also planned a special Tumbling Night for the community's entertainment.

Modern Choir gets its name from the modern light-hearted music the group performs. It is a fairly new organization at LSHS, but very popular with students who like to sing.

This small mixed chorus is composed of members of the concert choir who are interested in spending extra rehearsal hours before and after school in order to perform in various school and community programs, which require such small entertaining groups. During the past year the Modern Choir performed at the annual Lions Club Variety Show, in the all-school musical comedy "Penny," and for many other community functions.

Here the Mixed Chorus is hard at work on a concert number.

Mixed Chorus is an organization for those students who wish to further their skills and education in vocal music.

Under the direction of Mr. Keith House, the Mixed Chorus has gained recognition in our community and in our school. It has provided entertainment for many school assemblies. In the true spirit of Thanksgiving, the chorus contributed several numbers in the Thanksgiving Union Service. In the words of Mr. Keith House, the LSHS dance band is a "real swingin'" group. Now in the second year of its organization, the dance band has continued to grow increasingly popular. A completely extra-curricular organization, it was formed because of its members' intense interest in music and their desire to participate in a modern dance band.

This group has given performances of an almost professional quality for school assemblies, the Lions Club Variety Show, private parties, and school dances.

People of all ages and every musical taste have heard them. The consensus is that they are great!

PEP BAND

Ten to fifteen student musicians compose the L.S.H.S. pep band.

They play rousing marches and fan fares for all the home basketball games and several away games. They add much to the noise and excitement of the games and help stimulate school spirit.

The members can always be counted on to cooperate with the pep club in cheers during pep assemblies and games.

We hope they will be with us and do equally well next year.

BAND

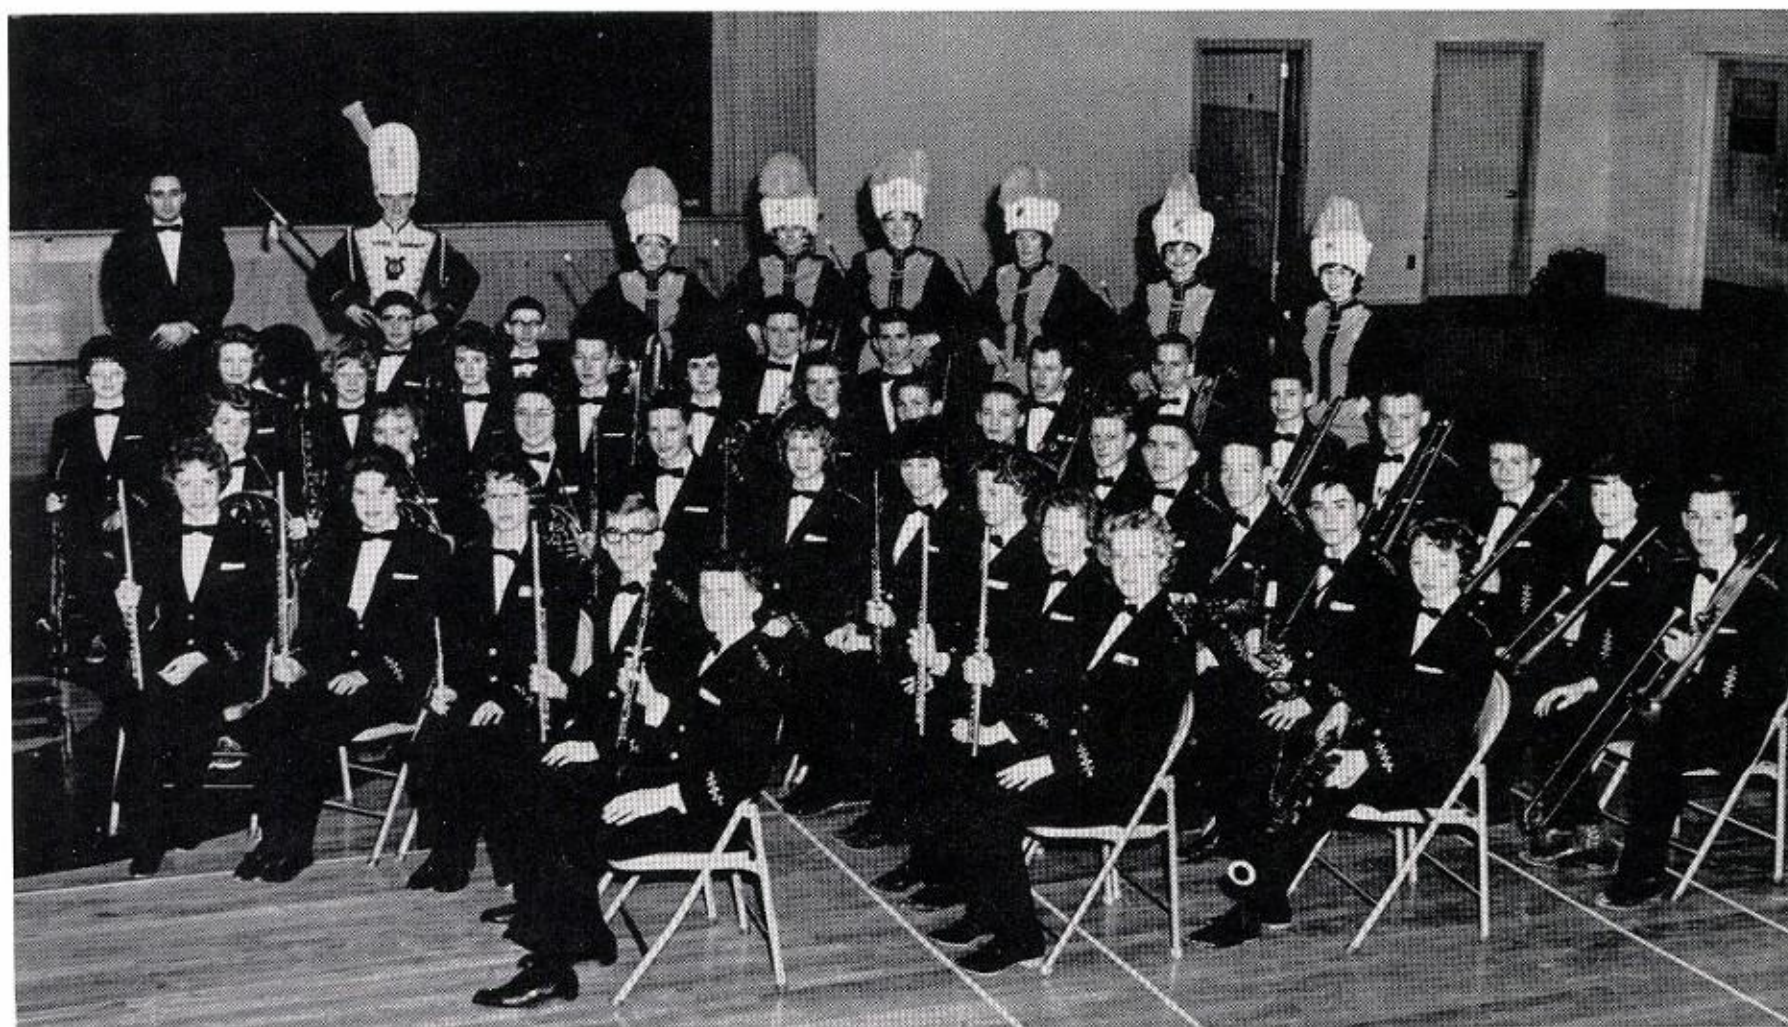

With over eighty active members, the Lee's Summit High School Band is one of the largest organizations in our school. In the early months of the school year Mr. Keith House, director, concentrated largely on marching. Assisted by the drum major and majorettes, the band performed marching drills and formations at half time of all home football games.

Members saw their many hours of marching practice pay off when they received the second place award in the Central Missouri State College Homecoming parade in Warrensburg.

After football season the band became a concert band, giving excellent performances several times during the year. These included the band's participation in the Christmas and Spring Formal Concerts, and the background music they provided for the all-school play, "Penny."

Before the end of the year the band had spent many hours practicing and preparing for the district music contest in Warrensburg, where they received a "one" rating last year.

Lovely melodies fill the air as members of the Girls' Glee Club raise their voices in song. Under the direction of Mr. William Van Pelt, the girls train their voices and gain singing experience in preparation for advancement into the Mixed Chorus.

Through their association with the Glee Club in performances such as those in the Christmas and Spring Formal Concerts, the girls develop a greater degree of music appreciation, and a better understanding of all forms of music.

Marilyn Miller, Mary Gibson, Susan Belt, Toni Williams, and Jane Dunning do a little extra rehearsing before class.

Delightful harmony can be heard in the vicinity of the music room during the class sessions of the Boys' Glee Club. Through actual singing and listening to records, the boys obtain knowledge of many forms of music.

Under the critical eye of Mr. Van Pelt, director, the boys learn that singing is not always as easy as it sounds. They find that a pleasant voice must be accompanied by good rhythm, intonation, and breath control.

Members visit the Linda Hall Library, nearby planetariums, William Jewell Science Night, and the National and International Science Fairs. Noted and experienced persons from many fields of science have visited club meetings, and shared their knowledge with these science enthusiasts.

Future Homemakers of America go about the duties of their organization with the following purposes in mind; (1) Promotion of world-wide good will; (2) Encouragement of leadership in both the community and the home; and (3) Furthering interest in home economics. With the advice, help, and leadership of Miss Wilson, home economics teacher, they combine fun and learning in the search for a better understanding the fuller enjoyment of the domestic life.

This year's F.H.A. chapter started the school year off by building the second place float for the Homecoming parade. "Stewing for a Victory!" was its theme.

Aside from Homecoming activities, the club sends representatives to State and Regional F.H.A. conventions throughout the year. National Future Homemakers' Week is observed by a full week of activities including an all-school assembly. During this year's Christmas season, F.H.A. members went caroling at the Jackson County Old Folks' Home and presented them with gift baskets of food and candy. With the aid of the Lee's Summit chapter of the Future Farmers of America, they co-sponsored the Barn-warming Dance and a thrilling horse-drawn hayride.

First project of the Latin Club for 1961-'62 was building the Homecoming float in Richard Jorgensen's garage. Members had a lot of fun constructing a colorful octopus with the theme, "We Oc-to-push 'em Under."

Most of the members enrolled in the Junior Classical League this yer, and representatives were sent to the district convention in Kansas City. In April members attended the state JCL meeting on the M.U. campus in Columbia.

They were active in two Christmas projects--the Butternut Keystrip Drive for nearby orphanages, and a gift to Father Flanagan's Boys Town in Nebraska. Everyone looked forward to the annual spring picnic at Lake Jacomo.

This year the Latin Club had a real Roman in its ranks. Exchange student Gabriella Bruschi came to LSHS from the capital city in Italy. She became an honorary member at the annual Christmas banquet. The Latin Club was grateful to Gabriella for the experiences she shared with them, and were privileged to learn many interesting things about her land and people.

A New Language Is A Challenge

This year the Spanish Club's activities began with real work! Their Homecoming float, "We Scent Victory," built at Carol Ford's house, boasted a huge stuffed skunk. Although it did not win a prize, everyone enjoyed working on it and it did add its own effect to the parade.

In December they held a Christmas party and Bobbi Appel showed some very interesting slides of a Mexican Bullfight. New members ordered their pins and second year members bought their guards.

As spring came, they planned their banquet, a Spanish dinner. It was held at the school, where lavish decorations and entertainment, as well as a delicious meal, were enjoyed by all who attended.

Doug and David Krueger discuss a Spanish assignment with Patty O'Connor.

Students that participate in the Co-operative Occupational Education program have the opportunity to gain on-the-job experience along with detailed business education.

They attend an eight o'clock class every week-day morning, and consequently are excused from a few afternoon classes so that they might have a few extra hours at their place of employment.

C.O.E. members give gifts and food to a needy family each year at Christmas time and honor their employers at an employer-employee banquet in the spring.

Each fall outstanding members of the junior class are invited to join senior members of the National Honor Society.

Induction ceremonies take place during a tap assembly, in which four seniors speak on the main qualities of an Honor Society student--Service, Leadership, Character, and Scholarship. A reception for the new members and their parents follows the assembly.

At Christmas time a unique candlelighting is presented by N.H.S. members, including the Christmas story, Christmas Carols, and Christmas poetry. There is no talking except by the performers from the time of dismissal until all have left the building.

In the spring the junior members entertain seniors with a student-parent banquet.

They Form Our Governing Body

One of the most important groups in our school is the Student Council. Through close association and full co-operation with the administration, this seventeen-member organization does much to improve our school.

With four members from each class level--two boys and two girls--plus the student body president Randy Woods, the council represents every student enrolled at LSHS.

Student Council activities and projects include representation at the conference, district, and state conventions, sponsorship of an American Field Service foreign exchange student, and giving financial aid to each class in sponsoring school dances.

This year the Council issued charters to all school clubs and organizations, and led a campaign for revision and acceptance of club constitutions. They also purchased a class ring as a Christmas gift for exchange student Gabriella Bruschi, and financed a telephone call to Gabriella's parents in Italy.

Members of the debate team are known for their unusual and diversified talents. They spend hours in preparation for various forensic tournaments and contests during the year. They not only prepare strong debate cases, both affirmative and negative, but also perfect such individual events as humorous readings, dramatic interpretations, poetry readings, and one-act plays.

This year's national debate question was "Resolved: That the federal government should equalize educational opportunity by means of grants to the states for public elementary and secondary education." After months of research, they found that there is more to this question than meets the eye.

Despite the tedious research and unnerving stage fright of speech work, most debaters hold that the out-of-town tournaments and overnight trips, such as this year's contests at Joplin, Concordia, and William Chrisman, make this activity a pleasant and rewarding one.

HI-LIFE, the school newspaper, is designed to preview the events of the school year and then recapture them as they pass. The main purpose of the HI-LIFE is to provide a detailed record of school activities for one's enjoyment now and in the years to come. It highlights the honors and recognition earned by the students, while it subtly comments on those things in our school which may need correction.

Additional issues are distributed during the year to commemorate special events, such as Valentine's Day and outstanding sports achievements. Still another issue is assembled by the staff and is dedicated to the "King and Queen" of the L.S.H.S. faculty.

Members of the Reflector staff spend many hours putting the yearbook together and attempting to meet every deadline. In addition to publishing the annual, they provide a "summer supplement" that covers the track season, junior-senior prom, and the all-important graduation.

Their work is varied and consists of taking and sorting pictures, writing and editing copy, planning layouts, and other general detailed work.

Being on the staff does have a brighter side though. In the spring the group sponsors an annual Gold Diggers Ball. This gives the girls a chance to play Sadie Hawkins for a day. They do not have to await an invitation; they invite the boys. But they must provide transportation, corsages, and pay for all expenses. The boys love it.

At the annual Reflector banquet, staff members get a first glimpse of the finished yearbook a day before they are distributed. Next year's editor and assistants are also announced and introduced at this time.

Lynn Rice and Tom Boten just love to pester Gloria Pape when she is hard at work on the REFLECTOR.

They Help With Office Duties

Joan Reffelt, Judy Etherton, and Vicky Thompson spend one hour each day, running errands for the attendance office secretaries.

They Prefer Athletics

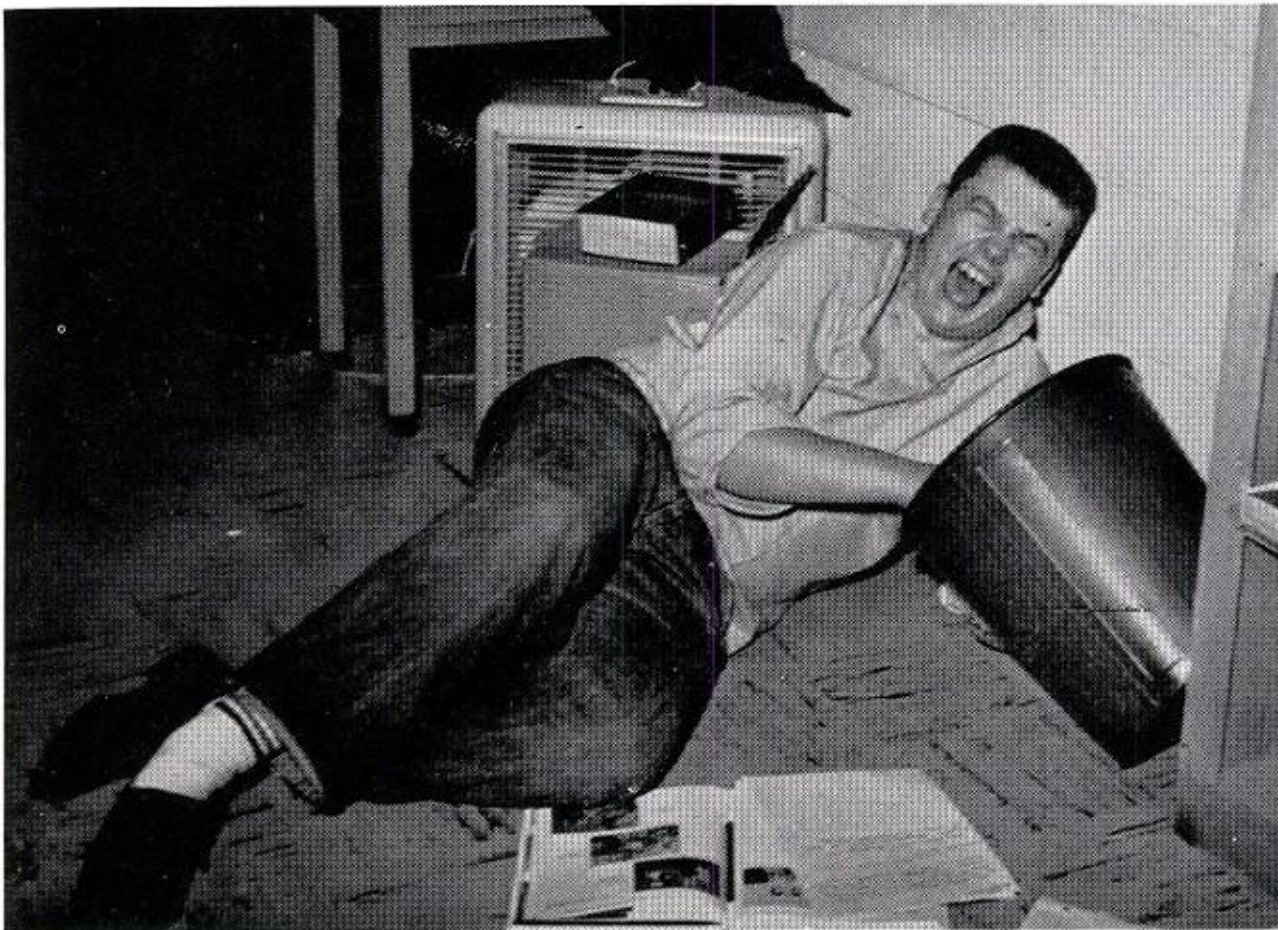

Cheerleaders Susie Wilson, Harriet Fillmore, Janet Tapscott, and Joy Jones, let's get together on that cheer!

For the first time at L.S.H.S. Mrs. Betty Witter, speech and debate teacher, joined Mr. Tom Garrett and Mr. Keith House in directing a musical comedy production as an all-school project. Try-outs for vocal and speaking parts were open to students of every class, and consequently over 200 students were involved in the presentation. Vocational agriculture students built flats, art students painted scenery, and the number of extras and production managers was overwhelming.

"Penny," the name of the production, was the story of a stage-struck young girl, played by Donna Kelly, who must choose between a movie career and a tennis victory with her boy friend, played by Larry Ferguson.

After many complications, involving a visit by a famous movie-writer, an impersonation of the latter by Penny's boy friend, a potential love affair between her brother and the maid, and Penny's parents utter unconcern about all these things,--chaos finally resolves. Penny goes back to her boy friend, her parents wake up, her brother and the maid plan for a future on a chicken farm. Who gets the starring role in the movie? Mavis, Penny's older sister!

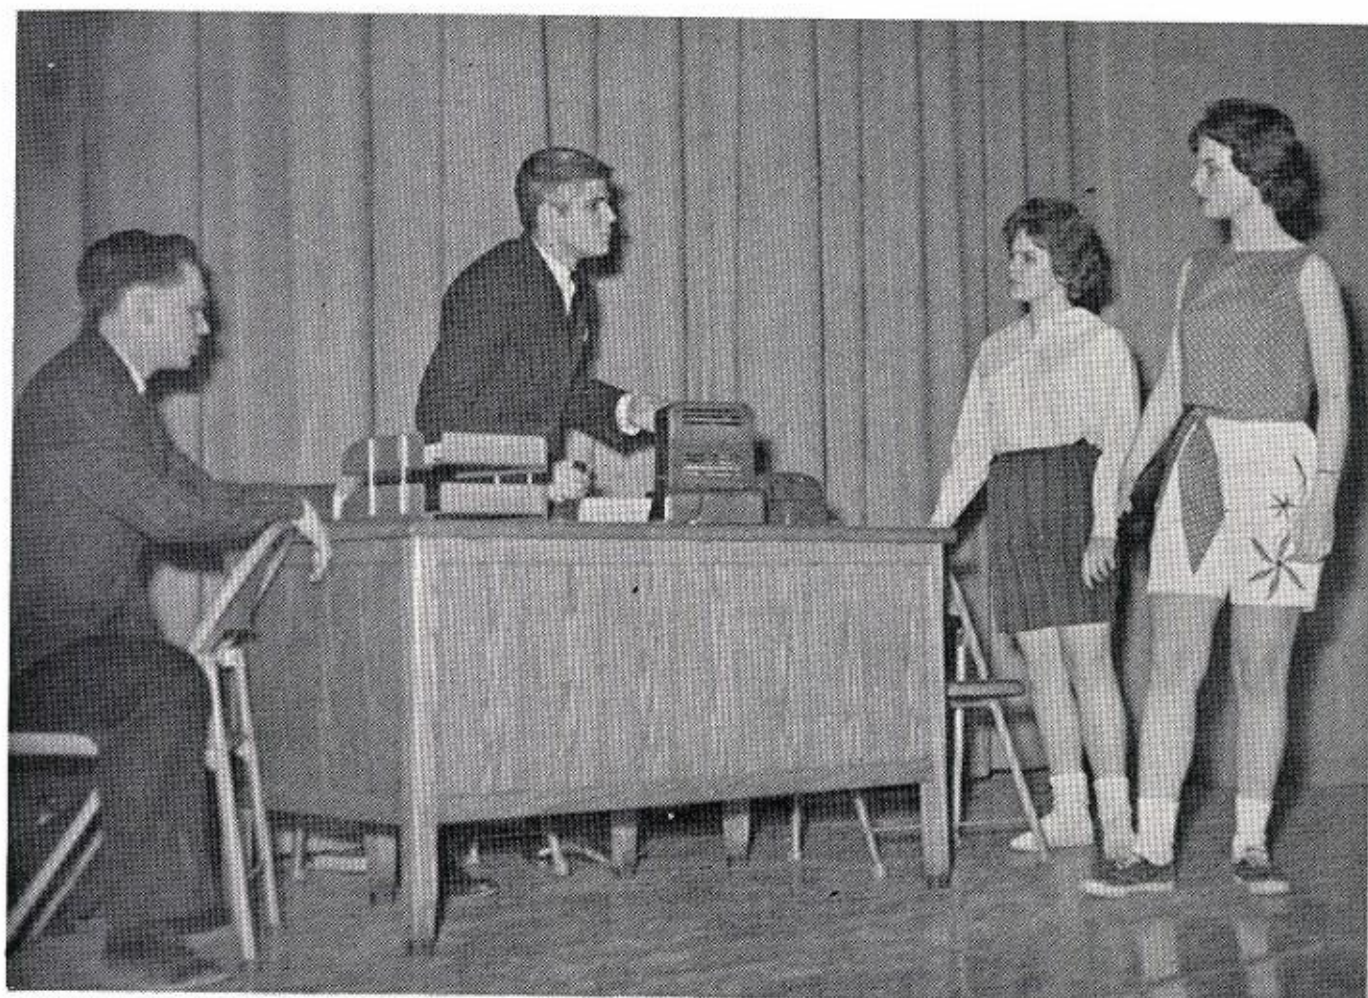

French designed Richard Gibson informs Pat Mulligan that he is accustomed to having his money in "what you say--advance."

Gary Hartman is disgusted. While he wants to talk of love, Harriet Fillmore is interested only in petunias.

Succeeds With Work and Fun

Television executive Tom Boten tells Marcy Pease and Donna Kelly that the famous author, Harrison Day, won't be in town till tomorrow.

Mrs. Mitchell helps add fifty years to Patty Taylor's age with silver hair spray, as Bob Scroggin, Gary Hartman, and Janice Richardson somewhat sceptically look on.

Spring

Springtime is a magnificent conclusion to winter and a bright introduction to summer. It is a time of shedding coats and scarves and other cold weather apparel. It is a time of blossoms and blue skies, laughter and joy.

Ushering in the season is the all-school dramatic production. At the annual Gold Digger's Ball, the Reflector Queen is crowned and the girls have a chance to ask the boys for a change.

Spring is a season for sports, too, with track and softball predominating. The wonderful world of the out-of-doors is once again alive with cheerleaders, Pep Clubbers, and pole-vaulters.

At the end of the track and field season, all lettermen in the three high school sports--football, basketball, and track--receive their letters at a banquet in their honor. Junior members of the National Honor Society are hosts to the senior members at their annual spring banquet. At the Reflector banquet, staff members receive their copies of the yearbook, and new staff members for the following year are introduced. Banquets are enjoyed also by members of the band, the Future Teachers of America, and the Hi-Life staff. Latin Club members choose to be different and usually enjoy a picnic in one of the many park areas around Lee's Summit.

No one is at a loss for something to do, because there are local, district, and state contests in almost every field of education including speech, debate, math, and science.

Spring brings with it a vacation, too. After the annual Easter assembly a four-day vacation is enjoyed by all LSHS'ers.

No one can forget the American Field Service assembly when our AFS student tells of her experiences in new environments and compares the United States to countries abroad. At this time the new Americans "to-go-abroad" from LSHS are introduced.

Then there are our two formal affairs. Once again members of the band and choir amaze audiences with their ability at the Spring Concert. Of course, nothing can be quite as unforgettable as the beautiful Junior-Senior Prom.

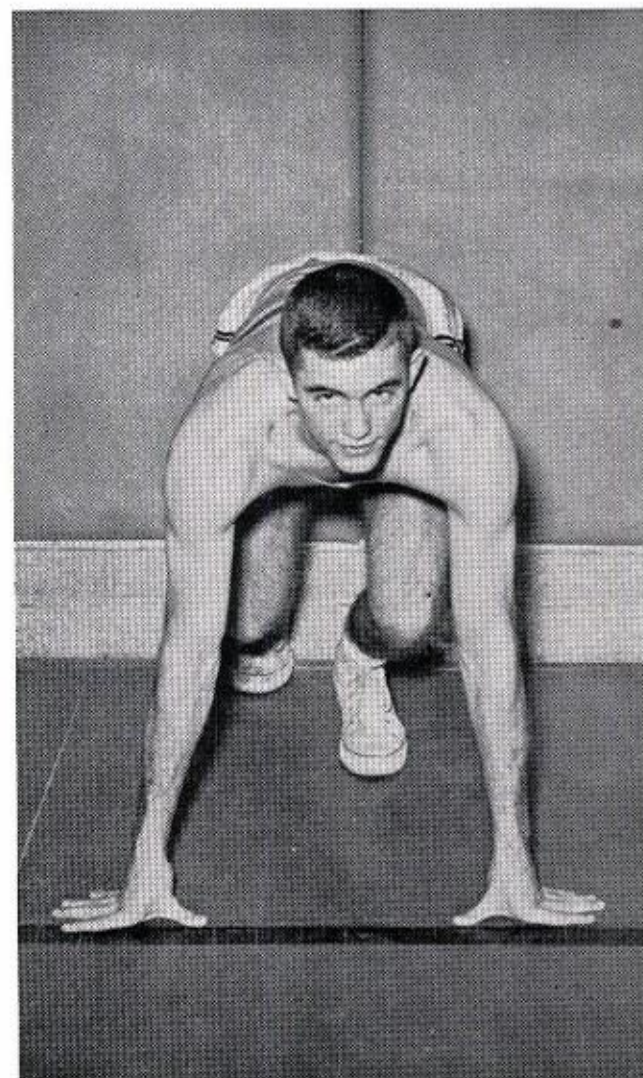

Talented persons in every field--music, speech and debate, athletics, practical arts, and scholarship--are recognized at the annual Awards Assembly.

Then comes the real climax to the spring season. Baccalaureate services and Commencement exercises mark the end of another wonderful school year and another graduating class of LSHS goes on to attain higher goals.

Track events and meets continue to create increasing interest at LSHS. Track meets emphasize individual events, but in the end it is teamwork that makes victory possible.

This year's running events included the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes, the mile, and the 880 yard and mile relays.

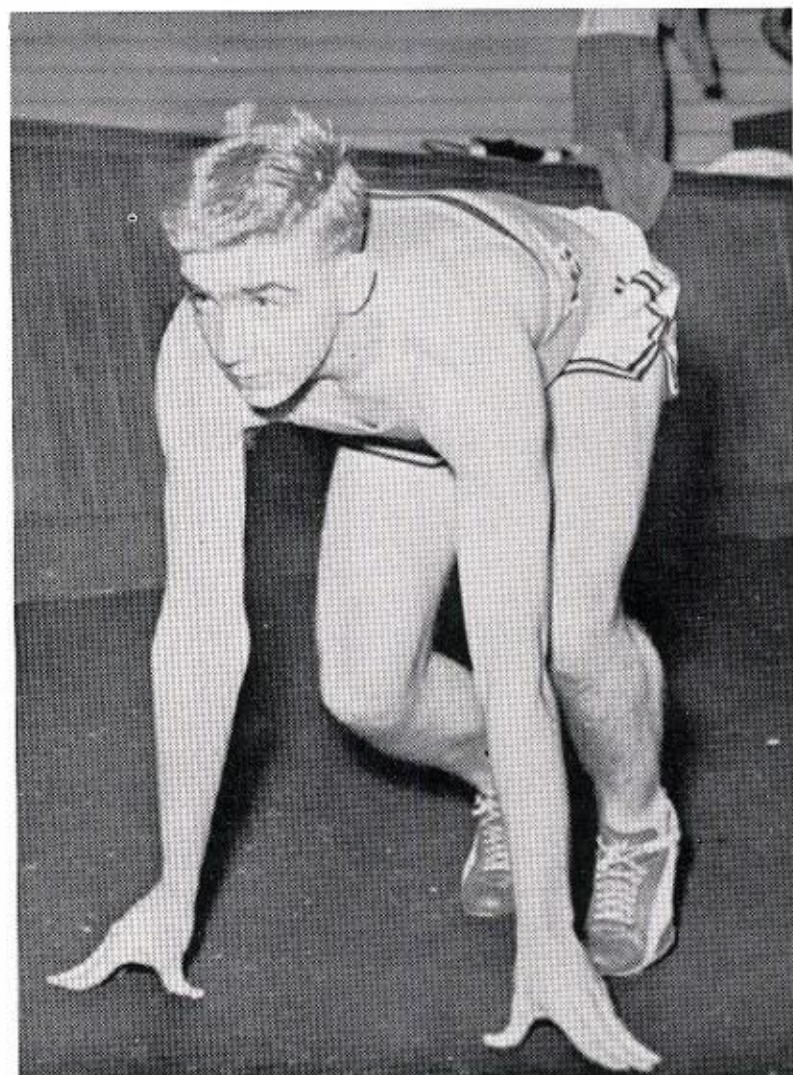

Field events included pole vaulting, low and high hurdles, broad jump, high jump, shot-put, and discus throwing.

Following the last track event of the year, the State Outdoor Tournament at Columbia, track lettermen, along with lettermen from all three sports, were honored with an All-Sports Banquet.

Seniors

After four long years, our senior year has finally arrived. Yet it seems only yesterday that the fall of 1958 introduced 189 dazed and frightened freshmen to their first real taste of high school life.

At our first freshman class meeting we chose Randy Woods to guide us through that trying year as class president. Other officers elected were: Bonnie Padgett, vice-president; and Harriet Fillmore, secretary-treasurer. Mary Kate Childers was selected to serve as cheerleader for her three remaining years, and head cheerleader her senior year.

We were given more responsibilities than we had ever known before, but we handled them well. Sponsoring the all-school Valentine Dance was almost frightening, but our fears had no grounds. "Cupid's Clomp" was a smashing success.

Our first Homecoming finally arrived, and with it the first try at building a float for the parade. Complete with an alarm clock and Old Father Time himself, our float displayed the theme, "It's Time to Win Again." Although the float did not win first place, it offered many hours of fun and a free lesson in teamwork.

Then, before we knew it, we were freshmen no more! We had passed the first milestone in our high school life. We were no longer children, yet not quite adults. Still, sophomore year brought a confident feeling of being a part of the LSHS family at last.

We launched into the social season with our Harvest Dance, the "Fall Frolic." Pumpkins, shocks of corn, and many-colored leaves gave the gymnasium an atmosphere of autumn.

Once again we elected Randy Woods as our president, with Mary Kate Childers serving as vice-president, Carol Boten as secretary, and Carol Ann Browning as treasurer. This was the year of initiation, both into the Pep Club and into the "L" Club. On Homecoming afternoon the sophomore Pep Club initiates, in outfits resembling Halloween costumes, experienced countless embarrassing moments as they performed and sang before the student body. We had another float to build, and this time we selected "It'll Be a Whale of a Victory" as our theme. We were proudly pleased to receive honorable mention for our efforts.

Junior year was next to best, because then we became upperclassmen. Twenty-eight juniors were rewarded for their work by their induction into the National Honor Society at the tap assembly in November. Harriet Fillmore was selected to be the first from our school to participate in the Americans Abroad program sponsored by the American Field Service, and spent her summer in Greece as a result.

And who can think of the Junior year without thinking of the Junior-Senior Prom? We were responsible for it this year, and won high acclaim for our hard work on the decorations for the "Springtime In Paris" theme.

Excitement was aroused in March by the arrival of our class rings. Within two days practically everyone in school had been confronted with the eager cry, "See my ring!" Yes, now we WERE officially upperclassmen, and proud of it!

Now all these years are merely memories fading into the past, and the senior year is upon us. We are in the process of making more memories to enjoy in the future. Our good times are shared this year with Gabriella Bruschi, our foreign exchange student from Italy.

Homecoming was plunged into with that certain zest that reveals true school spirit and our senior float "Crown of Victory," captured third place in the Homecoming parade. Mary Kate Childers was crowned Homecoming Queen, and her two royal attendants were Fran Anderson and Bonnie Padgett.

Those who guided us through our final busy year were: Larry Ferguson, president; Jim Keil, vice-president; Mary Kate Childers, secretary; and David Bratton, treasurer. Those whom we elected to represent us on the student council were Gene Clark, Mary Kate Childers, Carol Browning, and Jim Keil. Randy Woods was elected to serve as student body president his senior year.

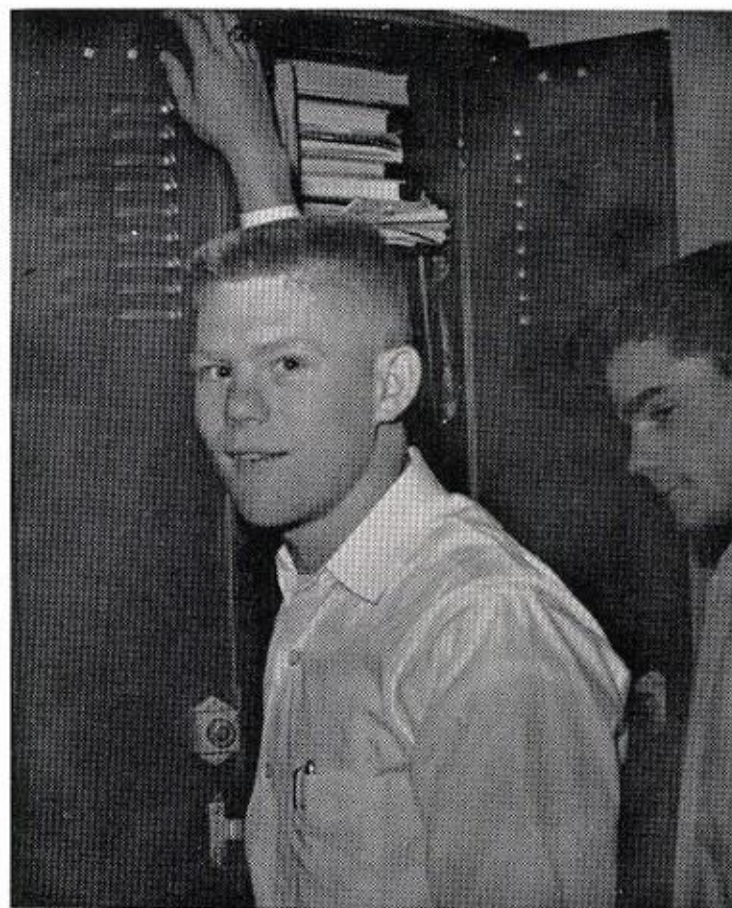

As Seniors we presented a beautiful Christmas Dance, and the underclassmen were liberal with their comments about it. Then, on the last day of school, we presented our comic impression of the school and faculty in the annual Senior assembly.

We approach graduation with mingled feelings and misty eyes, but with a deep and lasting affection for Lee's Summit High School, and all the friends we have made here.

Harry Kenneth Carlson

Nov. 2, 1946 - Aug. 11, 1961

Just as every individual in a modern society is dependent upon other individuals, so a student in a modern high school is dependent upon many faculty members, administrators, and even other students to get the most out of four short years. Likewise, the faculty must depend upon the ability and willingness of their students in order to make a success of their life's work.

Thus, as we have followed LSHS through the 1961-'62 school year, we have actually witnessed a community in action. We have seen that co-operation and diligence are rewarded with achievement and success. Members of the 1962 Reflector staff wish to express their sincere appreciation for such co-operation on the part of all those who were involved in this publication, and hope that the memories recorded here will always be a credit to Lee's Summit Senior High School.
